ANGLO-AMERICAN ARBITRATION.

YEAR'S DELAY IN NEGOTIATION.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21st.

The United Press to-day learned that the State Department, after some delay over a year's delay since the opening of negotiations, has requested Great Britain to take immediate action regarding a new arbitration treaty.

Notes have been exchanged during the course of the past week.

The United States took the initiative in attempting to speed up the negotiations, and inquired as to the reasons for delay. It is understood that impatience was made manifest.

Great Britain's reply did not explain the delay, except to say that the Foreign Office had not received reports as yet from all the Dominions.

It is understood that Great Britain desires an additional reservation. The pact as drafted contains four exceptions from arbitration, namely: Domestic questions, matters involving the rights of third parties, questions involving the Monroe Doctrine, and matters in which the League of Nations is affected or has jurisdiction.

It is the understanding of State Department authorities that Great Britain desires to exempt the "British Monroe Doctrine" from the realm of arbitration matters. This appears to have been made plain by Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Secretary for Foreign Affairs, through his explanation during the Anti-War Treaty negotiations. At that time, Sir Austen warned that the pact must not be permitted to prejudice British freedom of action in certain regions of the world. The integrity of these regions constitute a vital interest for British peace and safety, the Secretary said.

A similar delay exists with reference to negotiations with Japan, although it is considered that this has been satisfactorily explained by the preparation for the approaching coronation of the Emperor Hirohito, as well as by the recent change of Japanese Ambassadors to Washington which resulted in arrival last week of Ambassador K. Dohchi.

The United States is expected before long to have a series of conversations between State Department authorities and the British and Japanese Ambassadors in this connection.

GIRL WHO MAY BE ANOTHER MELBA.

SHOP ASSISTANT WITH A GOLDEN VOICE.

A girl of twenty-one, who may develop into another Melba, has been discovered. She has been accepted as a pupil by the Royal Academy of Music, and before her there is a vista that may lead her by way of Italy, and France to the height of her ambition, the operatic stage.

She is Miss Elsie Davies, until recently a shop girl at Ebbw Vale, South Wales, and her discovery arose out of a tragedy. Her father took a choir to America, and returning in the Lusitania was lost when the ship met with disaster.

Elsie Davies, then about eight years of age, became a beneficiary of the Lusitania Disaster Fund. The fund committee, recently had her voice tested by Dr. Goss Custard, of Liverpool Cathedral, who predicted that, given proper training, she had a great singing career before her.

Music Store Post.

Miss Davies then took up a post in a music store in Dartford, coming to London three times a week for lessons, but now the fund has enabled her to live in London and devote herself to her art.

A Press representative heard Miss Davies sing in the little room she rents off Ludbrook-grove. First of all Mozart's "Batti, batti" from Don Giovanni, and then "O Leggere H. Rondelle" from Gounod's "Mireille." The golden voice filled the room with its liquid notes. She sings as a bird sings because she is young, and life in spite of sorrow is good.

She has a charming manner of mingled shyness and friendliness, but her eyes light up when she sings, and again when she speaks of her music.

ANGELL ESTATE MYSTERY.

VICAR AND A CHURCH REGISTER ENTRY.

An interesting discovery which may have some connection with the claims to the £30,000,000 Angell estate in South London, has been made in the register of the little village church at Stokenham, near Totters, South Devon.

60 Square Miles.

The Angell estate comprises an extensive area of property in South London, and the annual rent-roll is said to be £1,000,000. It was left by Mr. John Angell, who died in 1784.

An entry has been found at the bottom of a right-hand page of the register as follows:—

May 18th, 1673. Baptised Mary, daughter of Justinian Angell, and his wife Elizabeth.

Vicar's Statement.

On the left hand page opposite the entry, however, is a declaration signed by the vicar, the Rev. Alastair Davys, and attested by the two churchwardens: that the entry was not seen by them when the vicar inspected the register in March, 1923.

The vicar has also stated his opinion that the entry, which is in old brown ink similar in appearance to the ink used in the seventeenth century, was made with a steel pen and not a quill as would have been used in those days.

There are many claimants to the Angell estate. The best known claimant is Mr. William Adrian Allery, of Larkhall-rise, Clapham, S.W., who is eighty-three years of age.

Steel Or Quill Pen?

When informed of the Stokenham discovery Mr. Allery smiled and said his solicitors were in possession of all the information. He expressed his firm conviction that the entry was a genuine one. "How can any one say," he asked, "that a written entry was made with a steel pen and not a quill?"

He explained that, according to his claim, the Mary whose baptism is recorded at Stokenham was the mother of Elizabeth Benedict, who was married to Samuel Allery, of Townshill Church, Dartmouth. Mr. Allery found the certificate of this marriage in St. Saviour's Church, Dartmouth, when he discovered some loose leaves from another church register.

If the entry in the Stokenham register were not genuine, Mr. Allery said, it would, of course, damage his claim to the estate. "The question of genuineness," he added, "will have to be settled by the court."

THE FIRST "MOSS" MUSIC HALL.

ALBERT DE COURVILLE'S REVELATIONS.

Stories of the Empress Eugenie, the Queen of Spain, and other notabilities are recounted by Mr. Albert de Courville, the theatrical producer, in his frank autobiography, "I Tell You" published in London recently.

Here is one about Sir Edward Moss, the great music-hall proprietor:—

"He told me how he started. He read an advertisement in a newspaper in Edinburgh one day. It said that a certain man, living some miles out of the city, would give away a piano to the first person who called for it."

"Of course, he told me, everybody thought this was some joke. He felt, however, that he had nothing to risk, and therefore took a barrow and called at the house for the piano. To his delight he found that the advertiser was quite serious."

"The man who owned the house was so tormented by people playing the instrument that he wanted to be rid of it."

"Moss put the piano on the barrow, took it back to Edinburgh, where he took a little hall, sat down at the piano himself, and had one or two artists come in and sing songs. This was the first music hall, as Moss created it. He had within a short time promoted a number of music halls."

"Once, when Mr. de Courville was on holiday at Deauville, he was playing baccarat, and won £20,000 in a single night. He opened the bank with a minimum of £500, and, when he retired from the tables with his winnings, he looked through the cards still in the "shoe" and found that, if he had kept on for another three coups, he would have won a further £120,000."

UNCLAIMED BALANCES.

TRANSFERS TO THE TREASURY.

PROPOSED CHANGES IN THE ORDINANCE.

At the next meeting of the Legislative Council it is proposed to introduce an ordinance to consolidate and amend the law with respect to unclaimed balances. The objects and reasons of the new measure, which will take the place of the Unclaimed Balances Ordinance of 1885, state:-

1.—The Unclaimed Balances Ordinance, 1885, provided for the transfer to the general revenue of the Colony of the following:-

(a) All sums of money, which, at the passing of the Ordinance, had remained unclaimed in the Treasury for a period of at least five years.

(b) All sums of money, other than balances of an intestate estate, which after the passing of the Ordinance should remain unclaimed in the Treasury for at least five years: for this an order under the hand of the Governor was required.

(c) Under certain conditions, funds of an intestate estate.

(d) Under certain conditions, sums of money, other than balances from an intestate estate, which remained unclaimed in the Supreme Court.

2.—To enable sums under class C (the balances of intestate estates) to be transferred certain conditions were necessary:-

(a) Administration must have been undertaken by the official administrator or the property of the deceased taken possession of by him.

(b) The next of kin must be unknown to him.

(c) Where the funds amounted to $20 or upwards (see Ordinance 1 of 1885, s. 4) advertisement must have been published in the Colony, and if possible in the mother country of the deceased. The advertisements were to be published after one year had elapsed from the death of the deceased, and were to state that the funds remaining from the estate would be transferred to the general revenue if no claim were made within five years from the death of the deceased.

(d) To transfer the funds to the general revenue an order of the Governor was, by section 3 of Ordinance 1 of 1885, required, and to enable such order to be made a certificate had to be furnished by the official administrator showing that advertisements had been made and that no claim could be reasonably expected against the estate.

3.—No provisions were made to meet the cases in which the necessary advertisements had not been made nor where administration had not been obtained until five years had expired since the death of the intestate.

4.—Cases have arisen in which these events have happened and there would appear to be no machinery whereby due advertisement can now be made and the money (if unclaimed) be transferred to the general revenue of the Colony.

5.—The object of the present bill is to meet these difficulties.

6.—The bill will enable the following to be done:-

(a) All moneys which have remained unclaimed for at least five years in the Treasury or in the accounts of the Government or of any officer thereof to be at once transferred to the general revenue of the Colony. (Clause 2).

(b) All moneys, other than balances of intestate estate, which have remained unclaimed for five years to be transferred to the general revenue of the Colony.

This will now be done by order of the Governor under the hand of the Colonial Secretary, as it is not considered necessary that the Governor should personally sign such order. The order and any conditions attached thereto will be published in the Gazette. (Clause 3).

(c) By clause 4, the official administrator, if the next of kin are not known to him, to cause advertisement to be published in the Colony and, if he considers it desirable, also in any place where it appears probable that persons entitled to share in the residue of the estate may be found.

MARKETS QUIET ALL ROUND.

The Fortnightly Price Current and Market Report issued on Saturday by the Hong Kong General Chamber of Commerce states:-

COTTON PICK GOODS AND FANCY COTTON GOODS.—The following reports have been received:—Market very quiet. There has been some enquiry for white shirtings but very little business doing. Manchester prices are fairly steady.

Nothing to report, market very quiet. Deliveries continue satisfactory. The raw material has been steady with an upward tendency.

WOOLLENS.—Small business being done in wool venetians, woollen rugs and scarlet blankets.

Market values for woollens in general have declined and dealers are finding it difficult to obtain margins. Clearances have been fairly satisfactory but the demand from Kwangsi has fallen off.

COTTON YARN.—Since our last report, market has ruled quiet, but prices are unchanged. Nominal quotations are as follows:—No. 10s at $170 to $180, No. 12s at $180 to $185, No. 16s at $195 to $200, No. 20s at $200 to $205. Arrivals nil; shipments nil, sales nil, unsold stocks 1,400 bales, bargains 6,400 bales.

Raw Cotton.—No business to report.

METALS.—Stocks heavier; prices dropped since last report.

FLOUR REPORT.—Stock American, 280,000 bags; Canadian, 50,000 bags; Australian, 60,000 bags; Shanghai, 10,000 bags—Total 430,000 bags.

SUGAR.—Market: Fair, but demand is slow.

CHINA, INDIA AND STRAITS PRODUCTS.—Market dull, nothing doing.

SUGAR.—Reported sales: Java Rough White, 58,628 piculs, spot; 67,980 piculs to arrive during October, November, December, 1928.

Fine White, 3,372 piculs, spot; Rough Brown, 28,913 piculs, spot; 28,465 piculs to arrive during October, November, December, 1928.

January, February, March, 1929; Molasses, 32,481 piculs; Crystal No. 34, 68,900 piculs; Crystal No. 18, 32,900 piculs; Soft White, 1,100 piculs; Brown, 14,100; Iloilo No. 1, 900 piculs; Iloilo No. 2, 1,000 piculs; Singapore Candy, 500 piculs.

SALTETRE, No. 1.—Market improving.

This gets rid of the term "mother country" and substitutes for it the place where the advertisement is most likely to be effective.

The period allowed for the claim is five years from the date of the advertisement.

(d) The official administrator is by clause 5 to pay unclaimed balances either into the Treasury or under the direction of the Treasurer into an account of the Government at a named bank.

The Governor has power to direct such sums to be transferred to the general revenue of the Colony but in the case of a balance amounting to $100 or upwards this power can only be exercised on production of a certificate by the official administrator that the advertisements required have been published and that five years have elapsed since such advertisements and that no further claim can reasonably be expected.

(e) Provision is made by clause 6 for interest to be added to the principal.

This clause does not apply if the balance be less than one hundred dollars.

(f) Provision is made by clause 7 for the transfer to general revenue of unclaimed balances, other than those of intestate estates, remaining in the Supreme Court for five years or longer, and the Court is empowered to require notice to such parties as it may think fit.

(g) Provisions are made by clauses 8, 9 and 10 for the refunding of sums of money transferred to the general revenue of the Colony; and the Governor in Council has power to entertain moral claims respecting the same and also legal or equitable claims where the amount is less than one hundred dollars.

Any payment under any order made by the Governor in Council is a bar to the extent of such payment in any subsequent claim against the Crown. (Clause 11).

(h) Clause 12 makes any payment under this Ordinance chargeable to general revenue.

(i) Clause 13 repeals the proviso to section 25 of Ordinance 2 of 1897 for the reason that the periods mentioned in the Unclaimed Balances Ordinance, 1885, e.g., in sections 4, 5 and 6 of that Ordinance disappear with the repeal of that Ordinance.

UNITED STATES' NEW PRESIDENT.

COOLIDGE'S CONFIDENCE IN HOOVER.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

New York, Nov. 3rd.
As Mr. Hoover sped towards California preaching the doctrine of Republican prosperity, Governor Al Smith was wildly welcomed on his return here by hundreds of thousands despite the rain.

The Governor, smiling happily, drove in a procession containing lorries conveying brass bands and newspaper photographers, through a storm of rain and confetti.

Mr. Hoover at St. Louis devoted almost his entire speech to farm relief and promised, if elected, to inaugurate a new institution in the government specially designed to deal with existing and future agricultural problems, the institution to comprise a Federal Farm Board.

The Republicans think that President Coolidge is practically certain that Mr. Hoover will be elected, as his successor.

Last night President Coolidge sent a telegram to Mr. Hoover, who is at St. Louis, to the effect that the success of his election campaign is assured. President Coolidge added:—

"I shall turn over the great office of President to your keeping and am sure it will be in competent hands."

BARONY FOR RETIRING
ARCHBISHOP.

HONOUR FOR DR. RANDALL DAVIDSON.

[BRITISH WIRELESS SERVICE.]

Rugby, Nov. 2nd.
H.M. the King has approved that the dignity of a Barony be conferred upon the Most Reverend and Right Honourable Dr. Randall Davidson, Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate of all England and Metropolitan, on the occasion of his resignation.

The retiring Archbishop will thus retain the seat in the House of Lords which he has occupied as a Spiritual Peer by virtue of his ecclesiastical office. He has always made valuable contributions to the debates in the Upper House upon Church and social matters.

This is the first occasion on which any Archbishop has become a Temporal Peer.

Past Archbishops of Canterbury have, however, generally died in office. This was the case with Dr.
Davidson's immediate predecessors
in the Archbishopric—Drs. Tait, Benson and Temple.

SOVIET SALE OF ART TREASURES.

OWNER'S UNAVAILING PROTEST.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

Berlin, Nov. 2nd.
The vigorous protests of prominent Russian emigres against the sale by auction in Berlin of valuable art treasures stolen by the Bolsheviks from their palaces and homes, will be unavailing if the decision of the court delivered to-day is allowed to stand.

The application was made by Prince Alexander Cotromantz, who asked for an injunction to prevent a firm of auctioneers from selling a valuable portrait and other articles, which he declares were illegally taken from his palace in Petrograd.

The Court to-day declined to grant the injunction on the ground that the petitioners have not proved their present rights of ownership.

Prince Cotromantz has announced his intention of pursuing the matter further, and it is understood that the case will shortly come before the Supreme Court of Prussia for hearing.

MR. JOHN J. RASKOB'S FUTURE.

FINAL RESIGNATION FROM GENERAL MOTORS.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

New York, Nov. 2nd.
The New York Times understands that Mr. John J. Raskob, who resigned his position as Chairman of the Finance Committee of the General Motors Corporation in order to become the Democratic campaign manager, will not return to his old position after the election.

It is not known whether he will also resign his Vice-Presidency and Directorship of the Corporation, but it is reported in Wall Street that he intends to sever all connection with the company.

Mr. Raskob's position is curious since, prior to this election, he was regarded as a Republican. In July last, however, he announced his resignation from the General Motor Corporation, in order to devoted his time and attention to the chairmanship of the Democratic National Committee, which meant that he would be the director of Governor Smith's presidential campaign.

Lieutenant-General Sir William Pulteney will unveil on Sunday a memorial erected at La Ferté sous Jouarre in honour of the British Expeditionary Force and to record names of 3,888 officers and men who fell in the operations at Mons and on the Aisne in 1914 but have no known graves.

Field-Marshal Sir George Milne,
Chief of the Imperial Staff, and General Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien will be present. Marshal Foch and General Wyngand will also attend.

A Guard of Honour numbering over 100 officers and men will be commanded by Colonel Heywood, of the Coldstream Guards, and in its constitution will be a body of exceptional distinction.

tive of every regiment or corps which figured in the composition of the original British Expeditionary Force. Every man in it took part in the operations of 1914 in the ranks of his unit and is still serving to-day.

Many constituents of the Corps have been disbanded, such as the famous Irish regiments, but representatives of these Corps have been found serving in other Corps and on the day of the ceremony they will attend wearing the uniform of the unit in whose ranks they fought in 1914.

Los Angeles, Nov. 2nd.
Two heavy earthquake shocks rocked the town of Lampoc and

LESSON SERMON.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, HONG KONG.

"Everlasting Punishment" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 4th.

The Golden Text was: "The hope of the righteous shall be gladness: but the expectation of the wicked shall perish" (Proverbs 10: 28).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The wicked worketh a deceitful work:
but to him that soweth righteousness shall be a sure reward. As righteousness tendeth to life: so he that pursueth evil pursueth it to his own death. They that are of a forward heart are abomination to the Lord: but such as are upright in their way are his delight.
Though hand join in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished:
but the seed of the righteous shall be delivered" (Prov. 11: 18-21).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science text-book,
"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We should relieve our minds of the depressing thought that we have transgressed a matterial law and must of necessity pay the penalty. Let us reassure ourselves with the law of Love. God never punishes man for doing right, for honest labour, or for deeds of kindness, though they expose him to fatigue, cold, heat, contagion" (p. 384).

JAPANESE EMIGRATION TO BRAZIL.

AT THE RATE OF 800 A MONTH.

ATTEMPT TO SOLVE UNEMPLOYMENT AND OVER-POPULATION PROBLEMS.

The current number of "The Rock" gives the following account by Father E. Kircher, S.J., of the great stream of Japanese emigration to Brazil.

It also describes the work that is being done for emigrants by Roman Catholic Missionaries.

The number of Japanese emigrating to Brazil is increasing year by year. Twice every month a boat leaves Kobe, there being often as many as 800 or more emigrants on board. This year alone the number to be sent to the South American Republic is said to be between 15,000 and 20,000.

All over Japan, in newspapers and magazines, in public lectures and private talks emigration is encouraged, especially amongst the teeming millions of the farming class. The thought of departing for the New World is gradually getting hold of those who are faced with unemployment and starvation.

8,000,000 Out Of Work.

The actual number out of work in Japan is said to be close on 8,000,000, an appalling figure, and as, according to the latest census, the annual increase in population is about 800,000, the disposal of the surplus has become a very serious question indeed. Hence the Japanese Government as well as the private capitalists encouraged by the Government are doing everything in their power to induce the people to solve the problem for themselves. It means the breaking of old traditions, but it will help both the country and the emigrants.

Looking After Emigrants.

Last year a five-story building was erected in Kobe in which the emigrants are assembled for about ten days before sailing. Here they undergo a strict medical examination and are given a series of lectures on the kind of life awaiting them in Brazil. Not every one who applies is allowed to travel. Moral integrity and physical fitness are absolutely indispensable. The expenses of the stay at Kobe are paid and the money necessary for the voyage is advanced by the Government or by the private companies working under the auspices of the Government. On arrival in Brazil the emigrant will find employment on the coffee plantations or in other agricultural works, very great facilities being given by the Brazilian Government.

Up to the present the emigrants have gone almost altogether to the State of Sao Paulo, but of late plans are under consideration to divert part of the stream into the regions of the Lower Amazon, where great tracts of land are to be brought under cultivation, and where Japanese capitalists are thinking of erecting great spinning mills. At a time when so many other nations are closing their doors to Japanese nationals it is a great boon to the latter nation to be able to find an opening in Brazil. There is a rumour of a contract between the Japanese Government and the State of Sao Paulo arranging for the permanent settlement of one million emigrants in that state.

Only Best Type Allowed.

But the same forces which led to the exclusion of the Japanese from other countries are at work also in Brazil. There is a movement on foot and gaining strength every year to block Japanese immigration. It stands to reason, therefore, that Japan is doing all in her power to avert the danger by seeing to it that no undesirable i.e. physical or moral inferior go into the country and by making those who do enter conform as fully as possible to the laws and customs of their adopted home.

Catholics Favoured.

Having heard how much Brazil appreciates immigrants who are Catholics the Japanese authorities consider it part of their policy and programme to encourage intending settlers to study Catholic teaching and eventually get baptised. For about two years a Jesuit Father of the Jochi Daigaku, the Catholic University of Tokyo, Father H. Heuvers, S.J., has been going to Kobe, each time an emigrant ship is due to leave, to give the passengers a lecture or two on Catholic doctrine, the Kobe authorities giving him every facility. Not satisfied with one or two talks the managers of the Kobe house, by what authority is not quite apparent, applied to the local clergy to appoint a priest to give the emigrants a regular course during their stay of ten days, with the result that the Bishop of Osaka has set aside the newly ordained Japanese Father Yamahaka for the work. He stays in the house while the emigrants are waiting for the boat and is devoting himself with great zeal to the task, instructing the travellers in the Catholic Faith, teaching them Catholic hymns and bringing them to the Church to be present at Catholic services.

Official Japanese Support Of Missionaries.

The following incident is another indication of how the authorities are favouring the movement towards Catholicism amongst the emigrants. The writer, a missionary of the Jesuit Vicariate of Hiroshima has been appointed to work amongst the Japanese settlers in Brazil. When the news leaked out newspaper reporters interviewed him and in all the local papers his photograph was published with articles eulogising his work and the selfless charity of the Catholic Church. Three days before his departure from Okayama he was the guest of honour at a dinner given by the provincial authorities in the finest hotel of the city, the Mayor, editors of newspapers and members of the private emigration companies taking it upon themselves to invite the guests. More than one hundred of the most representative citizens were present and in the absence of the Governor of the Province the Mayor of Okayama made a speech in which he emphasised the importance of missionary work amongst the Japanese emigrants, showing what a tremendous power for good in general, and in particular for conciliating differences arising from racial prejudice is to be found in the Catholic Church. The words sounded very strange in the mouth of a high Japanese official, considering how hostile public opinion is to the Church in Japan. Next day when the Father paid a visit to the officials he was asked to report minutely from Brazil, noting what he considered wrong with the Japanese emigration policy. He was especially thanked for the services he was rendering to Japan. When he left Okayama quite a number of dignitaries were at the station to see him off.

The spontaneous interest taken by these officials in the mission springs from the consciousness that if there is a power in the world capable of solving the difficult race problem under which Japan is labouring, that power is the Catholic Church. It is certainly true that the two factors which are controlling the anti-Japanese movement in Brazil are the energetic stand the Catholic clergy are making against the movement, and the fact that so many of the Japanese emigrants are being converted to the Faith.

SOLDIERS' OWN WAR MEMORIAL.

HILL OF BADGES MARRED BY TIME.

A public outcry has arisen in Salisbury over the neglect which has allowed the splendid collection of regimental badges carved on the face of the hills of Forvat by troops from all over the Empire during the war to become almost obliterated.

Forvat Downs was the training ground for thousands of British troops, who thus left their mark on the face of the chalk slopes.

These carvings are simple, but not crude, for there was great rivalry among the units to produce the most artistic memorial. No steps were taken to preserve these carvings, so time and weather have laid a devastating hand on them.

The matter was raised in 1923, and the National Trust for the Preservation of Places of Historic Interest and Natural Beauty was approached. Nothing was done, however, although the trust had just before accepted charge of the famous Chalk Giant at Cerne Abbas in Dorset, the site of which had been bought and presented to them.

The Mayor of Salisbury has received a letter from a New Zealander, who had a hand in cutting one of these memorials, and was anxious to know what was happening to them. He could only be told that they had been neglected and were gradually becoming indecipherable.

It was nobody's job to look after them, but now the work of preservation is being taken in hand.

The occupier of the land, Mr. Combes, a farmer, has permitted the work to be carried out, and is himself undertaking the task of renovating the Australian badge, representing the rising sun.

The Salisbury branch of Toc H has decided to renovate the Maltese Cross of the London Rifle Brigade, after which it will set to work on the flag of the Royal Warwickshire Regiment and the crest of the 7th City of London Regiment on Sutton Downs.

The War Office, when approached, decided it could take no initiative.

COLONY'S FINANCES.

FIGURES FOR FIRST SEVEN MONTHS OF 1928.

$2,000,000 INCREASE IN REVENUE.

$700,000 INCREASE IN EXPENDITURE.

The balance of assets over liabilities on June 30th, was $5,538,916.50. During July the revenue was $2,180,443.35 and the expenditure $1,608,704.64, leaving a balance of assets on July 31st, of $6,110,555.60.

The revenue for 1928 up to the end of July, excluding land sales, was $12,837,348.08 as compared with $11,523,738.96 for the corresponding period last year. The land sales amounted to $783,519.27 as against $67,167.02 in 1927. The total revenue for the first seven months of 1928, therefore, was $13,600,867.35 compared with $11,590,905.93 up to July, 1927.

The expenditure to July 31st, 1928, was $11,476,073.32 compared with an expenditure of $10,779,004.91 for the corresponding period last year.

"THREE TWOS"

COMMUNISTS IN N.
KWANGTUNG.TOWNS AND VILLAGES
DEVASTATED.THE MOUNTAIN STRONG-HOLDS.FEEBLE GOVERNMENT

CANTON, Nov. 4th.

Latest reports to hand state that the Communists and outlaws in northern Kwangtung, who were driven into the mountains some months ago by Government troops under General Fan Shek Shan, Brigadier-General Hsu Hok Chung and others, are again active, spreading death and destruction among the innocent people. They have swooped from the mountains bordering the Kwangtung-Hunan provinces, several thousand in number, and captured Wan On City and several towns and villages in the Siu Chan district and are now rapidly advancing towards eastern Kwangsi.

These towns and cities were practically destroyed, everything of value being taken away. Buildings and houses were burned and their owners and occupants were either killed or driven out. A number of these unfortunate people have come to Canton for refuge. It appears that these marauders, under the leadership of the notorious communists Chu Tak and Mo Chak Tung, are trying to force their way through Ping Hsiang and Liu Yang cities to join forces with Pang Tak Wye, another Communist leader operating in southern Kiangsi.

Some months ago these Communists and outlaws, after devastating several important towns north of Shikwan including the prosperous city of Chenchow in southern Hunan, were driven into hiding by the combined Government Forces of Kwangtung, Kwangsi and Hunan. Thousands of the Communists were then killed and quantities of their arms and ammunition were taken. The Governments of the provinces concerned, after their initial success, wanted to comb out the mountains on the borders of these provinces where the Communist strongholds are located. An organized military expedition composed of troops from these three provinces was planned but never carried out. The Communists, after their crushing defeats, retreated back to the mountains to await another chance.

Months went by without any trouble. The Government thought that no more would be heard of these desperadoes. Troops were therefore withdrawn, except in small numbers and precautionary measures were relaxed. But the departure of the army gave the Communists their chance and they again descended from their mountain strongholds carrying havoc and destruction in all directions.

GARRISONS OUTMATCHED.

The few soldiers garrisoning towns attacked were no match for the thousands of bandits. They retreated towards Kwei Tung and Sam Do without offering any substantial resistance at the approach of their adversaries. It is reported that no less than 200 agents of the Communists are in Siu Ying, Pek Shek Tung, Tong Teoon, and other cities and towns and villages of the district of Yan Fah in northern Kwangtung.

Meanwhile martial law has been declared in the North River districts and the Canton régime is taking steps to deal with the situation. It is thought, however, that no difficulty will be experienced in driving the Communists back to the mountains. But there is admittedly a most insuperable difficulty of finding their well fortified hiding places. The Government soldiers declared that the hardest thing to do is to fight these outlaws at their own doors. They know the mountain paths and all the strategic points thereon so well that it would be most disastrous to attack them in that way. Aeroplanes have been suggested as the only method for destroying these strongholds. It is reported that the Canton Government has already despatched an aeroplane to the mountains to drop bombs, but handbills urging the bandits to give up banditry and return to a peaceful life. The Government says if this does not work, then it will destroy their strongholds with high explosives dropped from the air.

THE RETURN OF THE NATIVE.CHILEAN CHINESE VICTIMISED.GANG WHO KIDNAP OVER-SEAS CHINESE.

Hong Kay a native of Fatsan, who emigrated to Chili some thirty years ago worked hard on the plantations and by denying himself all luxuries, managed to put by a substantial sum. He returned to China by the President Harrison about a month ago with the intention of settling down and getting married.

After buying a wardrobe of Chinese clothes in Hong Kong, he went to Canton and there through matrimonial agents, he got in touch with a young lady of eighteen summers. Arrangements were made and the wedding day was fixed. Then one night his home at Fatsan was raided by a gang of about twenty armed bandits. They ransacked the premises and not finding much of value, the robbers took Hong away with them to their stronghold in the mountains.

Hong was kept there for ten days and they asked for $20,000 as the price of his freedom. The robbers knew that Hong had returned from a foreign country and that he had plenty of money. Hong wept copiously and after ten days in captivity, he convinced his captors that he had not got so much money. He finally agreed to pay all that he owed in this world and that was $10,000.

Back To Chili!

The money was sent for and Hong was released. He arrived in Hong Kong yesterday and when seen by a Daily Press representative, he said that he was trying to raise funds from friends to enable him to return to Chili, where he would have to start all over again. "What can I do now. I am old and there is very little chance for me to make money." Of course, I had to give up the dream of my life—that is the young woman I was going to marry. I can't support her now, and it would be most unfair to take her out to a strange land without money.

Asked to detail his experience, he said that the robbers blindfolded him before taking him to the mountains. There he was treated fairly well because they knew that he had money. He had a very difficult task in convincing the thieves that he did not possess $20,000 and when the robbers agreed to take $10,000, he had to make out the pawn shop receipt, where his money was kept, to the chief of the brigands.

Men From Overseas Wanted.

He also said that the bandits told him that they reaped a rich harvest by kidnapping returned emigrants. "We do not take the trouble to kidnap local folks, because they have no money. The men who return from America, Australia and other foreign countries are the men we want," the bandit chief said.

THE LATE MAJOR BAM-
FORD, V.C.

The late Major Bamford, V.C., whose death at Shanghai was reported recently, had a dislike of publicity. In this connection a correspondent of The Times recalls an occasion when publicity was thrust upon him and promptly evaded:

It was during the War. The King was paying a visit to Rosyth. There were strangers in the wardroom of the Queen Elizabeth, which otherwise was crowded with officers from the ships of the Grand Fleet. Zebrugge, of which we had recently heard, came up for conversation. "Like to see a Zebrugge hero?" asked a lively young Naval lieutenant of the strangers, and without waiting for the obvious answer he and an equally lively friend made a sudden, violent raid upon another group, dragging from it a round-faced, pink-cheeked, wholly boyish Marine officer. One at each side they led him forward with the introduction "Here you are! First on the Mole and last off." Whether or not this was strictly accurate, it was sufficiently near the truth. But the Marine officer blushed so much, and presented so little the appearance of a hero that the strangers concluded they were being subjected to a test, not unknown in His Majesty's ships, of their aptitude for "leg-pulling." So they too laughed as at a good joke, and the Marine officer, after telling his captors to "chuck it" and describing them as all sorts of fools and asses, was allowed to escape. Some time afterwards he was recognised as Bamford. That was when the King decorated him with the V.C. "for most conspicuous gallantry" at the storming of the Mole.

CORRESPONDENCE.

MONEY-LENDING.

(TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONG KONG
DAILY PRESS.")

SIR,—The frequent cases involving money lending which are heard in the Supreme Court clearly indicate that there should be something done to assist salaried men who may be in need of money with which to meet urgent and unforeseen obligations. It is because of the absence of any such arrangement (as there is in America) that a great many people have to resort to usurious money lenders who not only make the borrower sign a note for double the amount actually involved but charge the rate of 10 per cent. per month by way of interest. The 2 per cent. mentioned in the promissory note is a dodge to hoodwink the Judge.

Recently, finding myself in need of money with which to put my wife in hospital and to meet unforeseen obligations, I endeavoured to obtain a loan locally in a manner that is satisfactory both to the lender and myself, but I found it impossible to secure one. I then tried an Indian money lender. This worthy not only wanted me to find a guarantor but required a note for twice the amount lent with an interest clause of 2 per cent. per month. Moreover, I was required to pay 10 per cent. monthly interest upon the money actually borrowed. Who could blame me for refraining from borrowing on these terms? And here am I still urgently in need of the money but unable to get it! It is on account of the absence of money lending facilities for the salaried man that the money lenders are able to flourish.

"Employers are apt to look down upon any money borrowing by their employees but they overlook the fact that very often something unforeseen occurs that compels a man to seek a loan. Now, take my case as an example. For eight months I was without a regular income and during the interval whatever money I had saved up previously had been "eaten up" by living expenses and by sickness in the family. And now that I have secured a job, I am doing my best to send my wife to the hospital for much needed treatment. Why should I have difficulty in raising a couple of hundred dollars say, making an arrangement with my employer to deduct so much from my salary at the end of each month to be turned over to the lender? It would be a safe proposition to him and a great help and admirable arrangement to me, and moreover, the lender could have a rate of interest (2 per cent. per month is the highest legal rate I believe) which ought to be highly satisfactory to all concerned.

But no—the salaried man is always the under dog and everybody keeps him down. Is it any wonder that "dangerous thoughts" are so prevalent?—Yours faithfully, STILL IN NEED.
Hong Kong, November 2nd, 1928.

MISS ROYDEN AND THEOSOPHY.(TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONG KONG
DAILY PRESS.")

SIR,—I was one of hundreds of women who met in the Helena May Institute yesterday afternoon to hear Miss Royden speak. I admire immensely her strong faith, clear vision and broad views, but I should like to correct one statement which she made.

Someone asked for her views on Theosophy and Miss Royden said that Theosophists "took the best parts of all religions and blended them into one religion. This is not correct. Theosophists do study other religions but it is mainly so that they may be able to see things through the other fellows' eyes in order to foster their great ideal of Universal Brotherhood.

I have never heard it expressed that one should adopt parts of other faiths but always it has been impressed on one that he should seek the best in his own faith, rejecting only the dross which has crept in and which causes dissension.

The study of other religions does not make one a worse Christian but makes one understand that in all religions there is, fundamentally, a great resemblance.

Personally, I consider that I am a better Christian for having come in touch with Theosophy.—Yours, "THEOSOPHIST."

"FASHIONS FOR WOMEN."THE GIRL WHO TOOK ON ANOTHER'S REPUTATION.AMUSING SCENES AND "WON-DERFUL" CLOTHES.

"Fashions for Women," showing at the Queen's Theatre to-day, is an amusing, if quite unpretentious piece of work on the lines of French farce. A pretty little American cigarette seller at a fashionable Paris café determines to win a young count who takes not the least notice of her charms. She gets her chance when Celeste de Givrey, the "Queen of Fashion," or in other words the No. 1 mannequin of Paris, after having her face "lifted" back to youth decides to go into the country and then make a dramatic return. But the house that dresses her urgently needs her services. So her ingenious and rather odious press agent fixes up a substitute. He has by the way engaged the attractive young count as the fashion Queen's private aviator—"You won't have to fly, it's just a publicity stunt." The cigarette girl, of course, gets the job of impersonating the Paris queen, and how she literally snatches the post from a rival is quite amusing. So there she is, Queen of Fashion, with her disdainful adored one as her "private aviator," and things go swimmingly until the little cad of a publicity agent tells the young count all about the real Fashion Queen's peccadilloes. When that charming old roue the Duke of Arles rolls up just at the wrong moment to see his rejuvenated adored one, the fact is indeed in the fire. Then the old fellow makes it worse by carrying off and marrying the real Fashion Queen who was, as a publicity stunt, to denounce her impersonator at a big mannequin show. But the poor heroine had relied on this to show her Count that she was a dear little innocent after all, and not the notorious Celeste de Givrey.

It is, of course, all straightened out quite easily, rattling on to a merry conclusion. Esther Ralston duplicates the parts of the fair American and of the real Queen of Fashion, and has ample opportunity to show off her pretty face and figure. There is the usual parade of "wonderful dresses" and our heroine is "shot" having her bath of fresh milk. It is all light, innocuous, and well acted.

An "Our gang" comic has some amusing moments when two performing seals invade a school and the news reels gives a glimpse of an oil well thoroughly aight.

"DRUMS OF LOVE."

COMING TO THE QUEEN'S.

Adapted from the historical incident of Francisca da Rimini, D. W. Griffith's new spectacle film "Drums of Love," which arrives at the Queen's Theatre on Wednesday, is heralded by critics as being his greatest achievement since "The Birth of a Nation."

In "Drums of Love" the great director takes one to a kingdom in which two brothers hold complete sway. Don Cathos, the fighter, is a mad of his will, but physically an ugly misshapen dwarf. Leonardo, the younger, is handsome and gentle. It is when Cathos receives a beautiful girl for a bride as a token of homage from a neighbouring nobleman, and Leonardo falls in love with his brother's wife, that complications enter into the plot. Scene upon scene of dramatic intensity builds up a startling development. The huge cast, which includes some 2,000 "extras" in big battle scenes, is headed by Mary Philbin, Lionel Barrymore, Don Alvarado and Tully Marshall.

ST. PETER'S Y.M.
CLUB'S BAZAAR.A WELL ATTENDED
FUNCTION.MRS. R. H. KOTEWALL OPENED THE FETE.

The second annual bazaar, arranged by St. Peter's Church Young Men's Club was held at the Sailors' Home on Saturday afternoon. There was a good attendance and some attractive and useful things displayed in the stalls. In addition there were the usual side shows.

Mrs. R. H. Kotewall performed the opening ceremony and in welcoming her the Dean of Hong Kong said that it was a great privilege to have Mrs. Kotewall to open the fete. The fete was organised for the purpose of raising funds for St. Peter's Church. This Church lacked wealth but the energy and zeal of the small congregation would, he hoped, enable them to raise enough money for them to build a new Church with a full-time vicar.

The speaker described the good work done by this Club, particularly by Rev. N. V. Halward and concluded by appealing to those present to support the bazaar.

Mrs. Kotewall Replies.

Mrs. Kotewall said that she had intended to ask her husband to speak for her, but unfortunately Dr. Kotewall was confined to bed by doctor's order. In a few well chosen words she thanked the committee for the honour done her in asking her to open the fete.

The St. Peter's Young Men's Club, Mrs. Kotewall said, was well known for the good work they are doing and her only regret was that Mr. George Zimmern, the former Secretary of the Club, was not present on this occasion. She wished the fete every success. A bouquet was then presented to Mrs. Kotewall by Miss Sue.

Thank You.

Rev. N. V. Halward returned thanks to those who had given money and goods for the fete. He said that the Club had suffered a great loss when Mr. George Zimmern left them but he was glad that Mr. J. C. L. Wong had stepped in and filled the gap. He called for three cheers for Mrs. Kotewall which were heartily given.

Around The Ground.

In the ground were many stalls and side shows, all decorated with flags and bunting. There were stalls for the adults and for the children, there were the toy and sweets stalls, and in the adjacent stall button holes and baskets of fresh cut flowers. There were coconut shies, a shooting gallery and a book stalls.

"Shippory Sam" who said he had come from the cotton fields in Virginia, allowed himself to be shot at three times for ten cents, and those who could knock his top hat got cigarettes and candy for their skill. There were other attractions such as kicking the football through a hole and the "Lucky Well" with its valuable prizes.

Variety songs were given by J. Pons arranged by Miss Violet Capell and at night there was a dance thoroughly enjoyed by a large number of young men and young ladies.

SALVATION ARMY
FOUNDER'S CENTENARY.

SALVATIONISTS in Great Britain and all over the world are about to enter the centenary year of WILLIAM BOOTH, the Founder of the Salvation Army and its first General.
The celebrations will be conducted on a scale unparalleled in the history of the Army. There will be demonstrations in the Crystal Palace, the Royal Albert Hall,
the streets, and in churches, theatres, cinemas, halls and in almost in every city, town and village throughout the land. These spectacular efforts will be carried out with all the fervour that is characteristic of Salvation Army
"warfare."

WILLIAM BOOTH was born at Nottingham on April 10th, 1829. In 1865 he was ordained a minister of the Methodist Church, but fired with tremendous zeal this pioneer of a new Order, despairing of conventional methods to reach the masses, deliberately cut himself adrift from his denomination. Supported only by the loyalty and inspiration of his wife he went forth like a modern John the Baptist into the East End of London to call on men and women to repent.

In pursuit of his mission WILLIAM BOOTH discovered that preaching was not enough, that Christianity had a practical aspect, and that to achieve his full purpose he must provide the loaves and fishes for the hungry multitude, and find work for those who were cast on the scrap heap of industry. Thus the social work of Army was inaugurated, and the movement became the hope of the "bottom dog." To-day the Salvation Army is established in 83 countries and colonies, and its message is spoken in 67 languages by about 130,000 officers, commissioned and non-commissioned.

The centenary year will be marked by great advances by the Army at home and abroad. General BRAMWELL BOOTH, whose state of health, we regret to hear, is just now causing some anxiety, considered that the most fitting tribute to the memory of his father can best be expressed by extension and expansion of the work to which the Army's Founder devoted his life.
The opening of the new Training College erected at Denmark Hill, London, at a cost of nearly £300,000 will be an outstanding event of the celebrations. One of WILLIAM BOOTH's dreams was to be the Founder of what he called a "University of Humanity," and although the new college may not cover the full scope of this ideal
General BRAMWELL BOOTH and Mrs.
BOOTH have ensured that it will be run on lines that will give men and women mental equipment and spiritual inspiration that should carry them a long way.

From England alone 700 officers will be added to the Salvation Army in the Centenary Year, and as many more from other lands, while over 100 of the best officers in England are to be despatched to the mission fields overseas in India, China, Korea and elsewhere.
Millions of pamphlets will be distributed containing the most startling sayings of WILLIAM BOOTH.
There will be processions in the streets, and demonstrations in theatres and halls everywhere, and also in the open air. "Some of the wilder methods of the Salvation Army of the early days are likely to come to light again," Commissioner HURLEN, a prominent officer at the London Headquarters, told an interviewer the other day; and he indicated that one of the main spectacles of the street propaganda would be a set piece, entitled "The trial, conviction and execution of the devil." It is understood that the effigy of his Dusky Highness will be given to the flames in approved Fifth of November form.

On Friday, two cases of small-pox, one of diphtheria and one of enteric, all Chinese, were reported.

Mr. E. L. Agassiz has been reappointed Official Receiver in Bankruptcy with effect from November 1st.

The name of the China Mining and Metal Co., Ltd., has been struck off the register of companies.

The name of George Evan Rowan,
L.R.C.P., M.R.C.S., 80, Peel Street, Hong Kong, has been added to the register of medical practitioners in the Colony.

The Rev. E. J. Bentley, recently lecturer in Theology at Yenching University, Peking, is joining the staff of St. Mary's College, as curate-in-charge of Berechurch.

The record of rainfall during October, as measured at the Botanic Gardens shows a small fall of 37 inches on the 4th and a "speck of rain" (0.1 inch) on the 2nd.
The rest of the month was "bone dry."

Mr. J. K. Shaw, of Messrs.
Jardine, Matheson & Co., Ltd., has been appointed Hon. Treasurer of the local Poppy Day Fund in place of Mr. W. Brackenridge, and all donations should be sent to him.

The entertainment at the Craigower Cricket Club on Saturday night was a great success, thanks to a very energetic band of workers who looked after the comfort of the guests. Over a hundred persons sat down to dinner and took part in an enjoyable dance which followed. Souvenirs were presented during the interval to the lawn bowls players who did so well during the season.

It is notified that Barker Road is not open to motor traffic without a special permit and that patients wishing to reach the Victoria Hospital by car should either proceed there by ambulance or apply to the Traffic Office, Police Headquarters, for a permit for the car which is required to take the patient to the hospital. In all cases where permits are issued speed along Barker Road must not exceed eight miles per hour.

The winter programme of lectures at the Royal United Service Institution, Whitehall, includes one on November 28th, "The Work of the British Navy in the Far East,"
by Captain L. D. I. MacKinnon,
R.N., and another on December 12th, "Japan's Position in the Far East," by Sadao Saburi, Chargé d'Affaires, Japanese Embassy. At the first Admiral Sir George Hope will preside and at the second Field-Marshal Lord Allenby.

We are very glad to welcome as new members of the Church Body
Mr. Justice Jacks and Lieut.-Col.
W. F. Christian who have taken the places of Lieut.-Col. F. Hayley
Bell and Mr. T. W. Ainsworth.
We are most grateful to these retiring members for their services to the Cathedral in the past and we regret that Mr. Ainsworth's retirement was necessitated by ill-health. We hope his leave will soon restore him.—St. John's Cathedral Notes.

As from January 1st, 1929, no Emergency Certificate of Nationality, or police permit to leave the Colony will be issued to British subjects or non-British subjects for travel to any non-British territory.
All British subjects more especially Indians who intend to travel to other places after their arrival in Hong Kong should obtain passports in their country of origin as the Hong Kong Passport Office will not issue passports to persons who are not domiciled in Hong Kong without previous reference to their country of origin.

There is a considerable deficit on the working account of Cathedral Notes. It is earnestly hoped that all who have been receiving these books during 1928 and have not already paid any contribution towards the expenses of printing, etc., will kindly send in, without delay,
their subscriptions or a donation.
These should be sent with names and addresses either—To Mr. H.
V. Parker (Hon. Treasurer), Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank, the Women's Guild, St. John's Cathedral Hall, or may be placed in the box marked "Cathedral Notes" at the west door of the Cathedral.—St. John's Cathedral Notes.

Mr. E. Lanepart, Chief Brother for China of the Theosophists, has received a circular "Armistice Day" message from Dr. Annie Besant in the course of which she states:—"The final renunciation of War in the settling of human disputes is being gravely considered to-day by the nations of the world. It is the burning question of the hour and must be solved. Will not you help?
Make this week a period of harmony filled with longing for human brotherhood and permanent peace.
On November 11th at 11 o'clock, please hold during the Great Silence the thoughts of this prayer:
O Hidden Life of God, outside which nothing can exist; help us to see Thee in the face of our enemies and to love Thee in them.
So shall Thy Peace spread over our world, and Thy Will shall at last be done on Earth as it is done in Heaven."

The dangers into which American slang may take unwary European feet are illustrated by an article which has just appeared in the Osservatore Romano, the organ of the Vatican. This paper deplores
"the paganism which is succeeding Christianity" to-day in countries like America, and offers as proof of brutality and callousness the fact that at the Dempsey-Tunney fight was knocked prostrate by the blows of his adversary, a hundred thousand partisans of the winner jumped to their feet yelling "Kill him!
Kill him!" The assumption that any of these persons really desired
the death of Dempsey is, of course, wildly mistaken. The cries of "Kill him" were uttered before Dempsey fell, not afterwards, and they meant only "Knock him out." At baseball games, it is true, one of the commonest cries in the crowd is "Kill the umpire!" but this is only a bit of American humour, as typical for overstatement as is that of Great Britain for understatement.
"Kill the umpire!" means only,
"I wish to express my dissent from his latest ruling."

The Repulse Bay Hotel held their first Carnival dinner and dance this autumn on Saturday evening. A large number of guests attended and voted the affair a great success.

The National City Company of New York is putting between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000, in association with the Pacific National Company of Seattle, into the Recent Air Transport Company. The object of this move is to establish a complete transcontinental air service across the United States.

In view of the anti-Japanese feeling prevalent and the fear that any demonstration may be made the occasion of an outbreak against Japanese, the Shanghai Municipal Council is reported to have refused permission for a lantern procession on November 11th, the coronation of the Japanese Emperor. This decision has caused great disappointment to Japanese in Shanghai, as preparations have long been under way for a gallant parade through the streets. Further representations are being made in the Council and the Commissioner of Police.

On November 11th there will be no Matins at the Cathedral at 11 a.m. Holy Communion (Plain) will be at 8 a.m. and a special memorial service will be held at 9.45 a.m. This service will be attended by H.E. the Officer Administering the Government, representatives of all the official bodies and of the forces, Ex-Service men, etc.
The service will last until 10.30 a.m. after which His Excellency will lay a wreath on the Cathedral War Memorial, and the company will then proceed to the Cenotaph.
The Dean will preach at this service.—St. John's Cathedral Notes.

Lane, Crawford's first dinner dance of the season was given in their restaurant on Saturday night.
It proved a most enjoyable evening and a large number of people were present. After most of the diners had finished the very palatable meal provided the lights were partly dimmed and the dancing continued merrily in pleasantly coloured illumination. The floor was in capital condition and the band was playing some of the latest music.
It is hoped to hold these functions every Saturday evening during the winter months. One of the attractions on Saturday was the licence extension till 1 a.m.

When the new Richmond Ice Club opens its doors this month Londoners will have an opportunity at last of witnessing international ice-hockey matches and international skating speed contests. Ice-hockey teams are coming from Canada, France, Holland, Belgium and Germany to compete with the best men in England, who will be selected on the form shown in trial matches in which Oxford University, Cambridge University, and the old Prince's Club team will take part.
Since the closing of the old Prince's Club Londoners had no opportunity of indulging in indoor ice-skating until the opening a year ago of the Grosvenor Ice Club, Manchester being the only city in the kingdom to offer facilities for the sport. Richmond's new rink, however, will be the largest indoor rink in the world, for it will give eight laps to the mile and accommodate a thousand skaters at one and the same time.
It will be open from 9 a.m. to 11
p.m. continuously, with the exception of two breaks of half an hour each.

In view of the undeniable tension between local and national loyalties which has existed among the Chinese living in British possessions in Malaysia during the past few years, the Straits Times says, it is pleasant to come upon evidence that at least one British administration need have no doubt as to the cordiality of its Chinese population. On the occasion of Rajah Brooke's birthday the Chinese community of Kuching presented His Highness with a lengthy address which makes interesting reading.

The Chinese community note with gratification, this document reads,
"that great progress has been made in the country since Your Highness succeeded to the Raj in 1917. Strife among the native communities has entirely ceased, and not only has the country developed commercially, but the communities have enjoyed many more of the resources of civilisation. Communications by sea with Singapore have vastly improved, and the system of communication by wireless telegraph has also been developed to perfection.
We also note with gratitude the introduction of electricity for light and power, which is an incalculable boon to the city, and we also view with immense satisfaction the proposal of Your Highness to open up the country with roads, which we consider will be of great benefit to trade and to the community generally." Tolerance, a strict impartiality, and a firm but progressive policy are named as characteristics of the Sarawak administration, and enthusiasts for democracy will note with interest that though the authors of this address live under an absolute monarchy—limited only by the acceptance of British protection—they yet declare that every person in the State of Sarawak can claim that he enjoys freedom in the fullest sense of the word. "Coming as it does from the Chinese community, this tribute is one of which the ruling family in Sarawak may well be proud."

MACAO FAIR.

BUILDINGS STILL BEING ERECTED

CHARITY AND COMMERCE.

The Macao Charity and Commercial Fair, when it was opened on Saturday night still presented a somewhat unfinished appearance.
There seems to have been a certain amount of hesitation, on the part of the firms represented, to start the erection of their pavilions until they were assured that others also intended to put up demonstration buildings. In consequence building is still going on, and indeed it would not be unjust to say that the larger part of the Fair was not to be seen on the opening day. Even the cabaret in which dancing was taking place on Saturday night was still resounding to the noise of hammers.

But enough has been done to show that when completed, and the work is going forward with haste truly feverish in this land of "the day after to-morrow," the Macao Fair will not only be well worth visiting as a place of amusement and instruction, but will have fulfilled the aim of the organisers in showing how an admirable trade centre can be found in Macao.

The object of the Fair is twofold as the name suggests. The position makes it a sort of Macao for refugees from China proper and to provide for these homeless and destitute persons is a very heavy tax on the Colony. The oldest benevolent society in the Far East, the Santa Casa da Misericordia, is to profit by the takings of the Fair as in past years, and it is in the hope of raising a considerable amount of money for this worthy object, that the organisers have provided an amusement park, including swing boats, merry-go-round wheel, a lake for boating and pavilion for dancing.

The commercial aspect has not,
however, been lost sight of, and the many pavilions erected by both Occidental and Oriental firms proves that their representatives are sure of finding Macao a profitable centre.

The Pavilions.

Of the pavilions already erected perhaps that of the Macao Electric Light Company is the most striking with its severe classical style of architecture. The B.A.T. have also a fine pavilion, and the Green Island Cement Co., Messrs.
Watsons, the Singer Sewing Machine Co., the Foot, East Hosiery Co., and Thompsons Malted Milk Co. are well represented.
Most of the buildings are of mat-shed, but they are constructed and painted with a great deal of ingenuity and, when finished, the Fair ground should present a most interesting spectacle.

The Macao Pavilion.

A large pavilion representing Macao contains examples of all the various trades carried out in the port. Glass, pottery, provisions, furniture, dress materials, foot wear, and objets d'art are all on exhibition there and for sale at reasonable prices.
It was, however, the various lottery pavilions which appeared to be attracting most of the people yesterday. A distinct advance has been made, however, on the "gambling for prizes" and nearly all the articles are well worth a flutter.
It is impossible to say what the Macao Fair will be like in a fort-night's time. It is at present disappointing, but it is far from being finished and every day should see great improvements. It must be remembered that even Wembley disappointed a great many early visitors for exactly the same reason that it was open before it was completed.

FIRE BRIGADE SUMMONSES.

At 12.15 a.m. yesterday morning the Kowloon Fire Brigade received a summons from the Sanitary Office, Yau-mat, and on arriving found the coolies' matched ablaze.
The fire had already got a strong hold and nothing could be done except to let it burn out and prevent any further damage.

FULL DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE.MEETING OF ALL THE LEADERS.CHANG HSUEH LIANG INVITED.

(Wah Tai Yat Pao).

SHANGHAI, Nov. 4th.

An important resolution has been decided upon by the Nationalist leaders including Marshal Chiang Kai Shek, Li Tsai Hsin and Feng Yu Hsiang and General Ho Ying Ching at a high conference in Nanking, concerning the disarmament problem. As a result a national disarmament conference will be held towards the end of the lunar year. Invitations will be extended to all leading militarists throughout the country to attend the conference.

The discussions at the conference will mainly centre round troop disembarkment, reorganisation of the national army, military training, and other kindred problems.

Following the adoption of the resolution Marshal Chiang Kai Shek has wired to General Yen Hsi Shan and General Chang Hsueh Liang requesting them to attend the coming disarmament conference.

NANKING.

(Wah Tai Yat Pao).

SHANGHAI, Nov. 4th.

The Dutch Minister, who has recently arrived at Nanking, said in an interview that in his opinion the city of Nanking was geographically better qualified as the capital of China than Peking. The foreign Diplomatic Corps were generally inclined to transfer their Legations to Nanking but owing to the lack of proper quarters in Nanking they were unable to do so at present.

As regards to the problem of treaty revision between China and Holland, he stated that Holland was the first nation which established commercial relations with China. The commercial treaty had by now become obsolete and both nations were eager to revise it. His present journey to Nanking was solely for the purpose of consulting with Dr. C. T. Wang regarding a proper date for holding the negotiations.

LOAN NEGOTIATIONS.

(Wah Tai Yat Pao).

SHANGHAI, Nov. 4th.

According to Mr. Sun Fo's statement, there has not yet been any official loan negotiation with Great Britain and the United States. The Central Government has taken the decision that before proceeding with this matter, the consolidation of internal finances and the establishment of international credits must be sought.

CONTROL OF CUSTOMS.

(Wah Tai Yat Pao).

SHANGHAI, Nov. 4th.

The Nanking Ministry of Finance has established a department in full control of Customs affairs. The Nanking authorities have instructed Mr. Edwards, the Inspector-General of Chinese Customs, to receive orders from it.

SHANSI PLAGUE REPORTS.

[FROM A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

PEIPING, Nov. 4th. Foreigners just returned from Taiyuanfu state that Chinese reports of plague in Shansi are much exaggerated. Bubonic plague undoubtedly exists, but the deaths are nothing like as great as was reported. The authorities anticipate that they will soon suppress the outbreak.

TIENTSIN.

TIENTSIN, Nov. 24th.

The Second Scots Guards arrived this afternoon, and a large crowd turned out to welcome the troops as they marched from the station to their quarters. The First East Yorks left for Hong Kong this morning.

PANGALOS AGAIN IN PRISON.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE.

SHOTS AT MOCKING CROWD.

ATHENS, Nov. 3rd.

General Pangalos, whose release was one of M. Venizelos' first acts on his reappearance in the political arena, is again in gaol.

General Pangalos, who is charged with manslaughter, is accused of firing from the balcony of his political headquarters at the crowds which jeered at him on the eve of the last elections. Two among those wounded in the crowd died.

Although the others arrested on the same charge were allowed bail, the council of the Court of First Instance ruled that General Pangalos be kept in prison, but it is considered that he will eventually be allowed.

AGRICULTURAL POLICY OF ITALY.

HUGE MARCH OF PEASANTS.

MUSSOLINI'S STIRRING

ROME, Nov. 4th.

Among the demonstrations in connection with the tenth anniversary of the Italo-Austrian armistice now being celebrated has been a march to the capital of two great processions of peasants, one of 40,000 and the other of 25,000 from every part of Italy with bands.

Signor Mussolini in a stirring address confirmed his intention of concentrating upon the development of agricultural interests instead of the urban policy hitherto followed. He has arranged to gather the agriculturists again at Rome on November 3rd, 1934.

FRENCH RADICAL PARTY.

AN IMPORTANT CONGRESS.

GOVERNMENT MEASURES OPPOSED.

ANGERS, Nov. 4th.

Unusual importance is attached to the annual congress of the Radical Socialist party to-day, because the section is credited with scheming the downfall of the Poincaré Government. The congress will decide whether the mandate to its Ministers in the Cabinet shall continue.

All the leaders were present, including M. Herriot and three other Cabinet Ministers. The president of the party, M. Daladier, in his opening address adopted the attitude of sitting on the fence, and recommended inter alia the enforcement of anti-clerical legislation and the elimination of articles 70 and 71 from the budget proposals. He criticised the Government's foreign policy and asserted that the party should withhold its support from the Government if it was not prepared to carry out the minimum programme he outlined. In this case the Radical Ministers should retire.

Poincaré's Ultimatum.
M. Poincaré has told the Finance Commission of the Chamber that he objected to its amendments to the budget. He declared that if the budget were not passed in its present state before the end of the year, he would leave to the others the task of achieving financial restoration.

WING ON TO BUILD IN NANKING.FINE NEW STORE, HOTELS AND CINEMAS.

NANKING, Oct. 26th.

Upon the invitation of Mr. Liu Chi Wen, Mayor of Nanking, the proprietors of the Wing On Co. in Shanghai have completed their plans to open a $50,000,000 department store in the Nationalist Capital. The skyscraper store will be the most ambitious one of the chain of department stores owned by the wealthy Cantonese merchants and one of the finest in the Far East. The building will be erected near Hua Pei Lou, or the central section of the city.

An hotel very much like the Majestic Hotel of Shanghai will be also shortly built in Nanking. In fact, the name of this new hotel will be the same as the Chinese name of the Majestic, Ta Hua, meaning Great China. Two motion picture houses are also under construction.

In view of the fact that it is not quite certain how the new city will be laid out, and owing to a report that property owners will be heavily taxed by the city authorities, few of the wealthy merchants have so far dared to make heavy investments in the Nationalist capital, although they are all anxious to start some form of business. There is not the slightest fear in their mind that their business propositions here will not be profit making, if they can be given some sort of a guarantee that their buildings will be let alone when the city authorities are planning the new capital, and that they may not be too exorbitantly taxed by the local officials. It is understood that an arrangement has been made between Mr. Liu, the Mayor, and four big business corporations, and that the merchants have found the terms entirely satisfactory.—Reuter.

LABOUR OUTRAGES IN AUSTRALIA.

MELBOURNE, Nov. 3rd.

Crowds of unionists have intimidated canteens at the wharves and prevented delivery of goods to ships.

The Chief Commissioner of Police declares that no half measures will be used in dealing with violence. Business men at the port state that a reign of terror prevails in the district.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Bruce, declares that the waterfront outrages constitute a challenge to the Australian people.

MEDIEVAL TORTURE IN MEXICO.

POLICE METHODS DESCRIBED.

OBREGON'S MURDERER ON TRIAL.

SAN ANGELO, Mexico, Nov. 3rd.

The trial of Jose de Leon Toral for murdering the President Elect of Mexico, General Obregon, was opened close to the scene of the crime, the Mother Superior Maria Concepcion being jointly tried on a charge of being Toral's accomplice. The public interest has been so great that arrangements have been made to wireless and broadcast the proceedings.

Toral, examined by counsel, said the killing of Obregon was a "Mission of God." He declared that he did not know exactly what the result would bring, but he was confident it would help the cause of the controversy in Mexico between the State and the Roman Catholic Church.

Terrible Tortures.

Toral told the jury that after his arrest the police tortured him in an effort to drag from him a confession that others were implicated. The tortures included suspension by his thumbs and stretching his body on an improvised rack, which he was able to endure "by the grace of God." As he was hanging one thumb slipped and he was left hanging by the other. Later he was hung up with a rope round his chest so that he could scarcely breathe. The police deny these allegations.

FAILURE OF RICE CROP.CENTRAL CHINA FACED WITH STARVATION.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 3rd.

Reports on the crops have been coming in from almost every one of the eighteen provinces of China Proper indicating an increasingly bad forecast and pointing to the possibilities of terrible conditions in the coming winter.

The staple food of rice has suffered particularly on account of the widespread drought. The Wholesale Rice Dealers' Association of Shanghai states that the crops of the following provinces are below the average good crop to the extent quoted:—

Kiangsu	60
Anhui	50
Chekiang	40
Kiangsi	40
Honan	40
Hunan	30

The same Association estimates the total crop at approximately 51,000,000 piculs or 5,400,000 short tons.

It is estimated that the normal rice crop of the six mentioned provinces is 15,000,000 tons. Therefore a serious shortage of food is to be expected over an area of at least 400,000 square miles with a population of nearly 200,000,000 people, most of whom are normally living very closely to the starvation line.

It is understood that the Bank's £1 notes will be green and the 10/- notes red.

SALVATION ARMY LEADER.ANXIETY FOR GENERAL

RUGBY, Nov. 2nd.

General Bramwell Booth, the head of the Salvation Army, is ill. His doctors have issued the following bulletin:—"General Booth is suffering from nervous prostration, and his condition gives rise to some anxiety. It is essential that he has complete rest from all work for several months, and this will, we hope, ensure his complete recovery."

CHINESE PRINCESSES IN JAPAN.RAISING CHICKENS AT A VILLA NEAR BEPPU.

Former Princess An Ching, 20 years old, and her younger sister, An Ching, 18, granddaughters of former Prince Su, one of the most powerful princes in the last days of the Ching Dynasty of China, were found leading a quiet life in a villa in Mato-ga-hama, Beppu, reports the Osaka Mainichi. They are under the guardianship of Lieutenant-Colonel Takeshi Goto, retired, formerly military adviser to Prince Su, and are raising chickens in the grounds of the villa.

Recently, the two sisters went to Tokyo to meet their father as well as "Miss Yoshiko Kawashima," their aunt, who is a daughter of Prince Su, now in Tokyo. They wear Japanese kimono, and live like Japanese, so much so that a casual observer would not readily notice any difference between them and ordinary Japanese women of their age. It is understood that the two young women intend to become naturalized as Japanese subjects.

Their presence in Japan since July this year has been kept a secret with the help of the police of Beppu, at the request of Lieutenant-Colonel Goto, in order to avoid many possible callers, as they or their family are well-known to many persons in Japan.

Their father, former Prince Hsien Tu, son of Prince Su, is now staying in Tokyo, trying to sell some of the curios in his possession.

UNIVERSITY ARTS ASSOCIATION.SATURDAY'S SUCCESSFUL FUNCTION.PLAY IN BLANK VERSE BY CHINESE LADIES.

The Arts Association of the Hong Kong University gave their annual social function at the Great Hall of the University on Saturday night. Nearly 700 guests were present, including His Excellency the Hon. Mr. W. T. Southern, C.M.G., and Mrs. Southern.

Mr. Lung Ting Wong, Chairman of the Association, having made a brief speech of welcome two plays were presented by the students. The first was Clifford Bax's "The Peacemakers of Ispahan," given by seven of the Chinese women students. This delightful little fantasy tells how the Persian Princess, Silver Moon, was wooed and won. The suitors had to produce a poem and ten pieces of silver. The silver is not much better to most of them, but the poem is the very dinkiest, and the Princess's father is a pedant. There is, however, a humble pennant, who can write poems like Omar himself, but hasn't got any silver. How he gets it, by making fair copies of his rival's doggerel, and then double crosses them is the subject of the play.

It was acted with very fair skill, especially considering that it is all in blank verse, which the young players certainly found harder than everyday speech. A feature of the production was the really beautiful setting of the palace courtyard in ancient Ispahan, which had been most skilfully painted by Mr. R. S. W. Paterson, M.C. Following the interval, the men gave a farce, by Thomas Williams, entitled "My Turn Next." It deals with complications in a chemist's shop and the marrying off of the old proprietor's daughter. It was performed in the proper bustling manner, and the players evidently enjoyed themselves as well as amusing the audience.

Quite a feature of the evening were the songs given by Mrs. Bowes-Smith, which were in the nature of a prologue to the two plays.

Professor R. M. Simpson, M.A., M.C., directed the dramatic part. Mr. Huang Tsun Ming prepared the proscenium and Mr. Lam Tung, B.A., wrote the synopsis in Chinese of the two plays.

The Committee.

The Committee of the Arts Association are as follows:—President, Mr. H. G. Hughes, M.A.; Hon. Vice-President, The Vice-Chancellor, Rt. Rev. Bishop of Victoria, Mr. H. H. Wood, LL.B.; Vice-Presidents, Professor W. J. Hinton, M.A.; Professor R. M. Simpson, M.A., M.C.; Mr. Yuen Kwok Kuen, B.A.; Chairman, Lung Tin Tong; Vice-Chairman, Tao Ting Kau; Hon. Secretary, Lo Chi Chiu; Hon. Treasurer, Lee Pui Tong; Hon. Auditor, Mrs. W. F. F. B. C. The Decoration Committee were:—Messrs. Tan Cheng Lock, Huang Tsun Ming, Sung King Chai, John Pau, Cheung King Pak, S. V. Gittins.

Reception Committee:—Messrs. Tsui Hung Kee, Chan Yi Tsung, Ip Kun Im, Kwan Im Chor, Tan Gim Ann, Chan Pang Kee, and Misses Rosie Kwok, Chan Ying, Elsie Wong, Julia Lam, Jeannie Lo, Emily Ho.

THE COST OF THE PRESIDENCY.

OVER $39,000,000 SPENT.

MRS. SMITH'S CLOTHES.

[REUTER'S AMERICAN SERVICE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3rd.

The Republican and Democratic parties together have received nearly $39,000,000 to further the causes of Hoover and Smith for the Presidency. The Republican national committee reports receipts of $4,919,000, and expenses of $4,744,000, while the Democratic party's receipts are $4,089,000 and expenses $4,008,000.

Experts however declare that this is only a fraction of the total throughout the country not only on behalf of the candidates but for all election purposes.

The Women's Vote.
A notable fact of the presidential campaign is that not for many years have the opposing parties talked so little of foreign affairs and so much of home ones. Public discussion has concentrated on internal problems.

It is considered that two things weigh heavily with women voters, firstly prohibition and secondly Mrs. Smith. Many women pay tribute to her personal qualities, but do not consider that she is worthy to represent the country whose women attach much more importance than men to dress, speech and social amenities.

INDIAN QUARTERMASTER
"CEDARBANK."

Shikh Mahomed, the Indian quartermaster on board the a.s. Cedarbank, was convicted of larceny and sentenced to two months' hard labour by Mr. W. Scofield at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday morning.

Mr. Thirwood, the Chief Officer of the Cedarbank, appeared as complainant.

The defendant was accused of having stolen a cheque for G. $3.50, and a ring of keys from the complainant's cabin. Sergt. Humphries who was in charge of the case informed his Worship that complaints of theft had been made on board for a long time.

When formally charged the defendant admitted the theft but pleaded insanity.

He was later examined by the medical officer who refuted this.

The Magistrate found the defendant guilty and imposed the above sentence.

RAILWAY TUNNEL FATALITY.

The body of a Chinese woman was found early yesterday morning at the entrance of No. 3 Railway Tunnel. Detective Inspector Fallon and his squad of Chinese detectives were soon on the spot, and murder was at first suspected. However, late last night the police had found the relatives of the deceased who identified the body at the Kowloon Mortuary, and it is now believed that the woman was accidentally killed by a train.

SUSPECTED MURDER.

A Chinese who was arrested in connection with the finding of the body of a Chinese behind the Kowloon Hospital was before Mr. W. Schofield at the Kowloon Magistracy.

Detective Inspector Fallon who was in charge of the case was granted a week's formal remand. Two Chinese who were also charged with the possession of daggers were before Mr. W. Schofield and the hearing was fixed at 2.15 p.m. on November 6th.

THE ARCHBISHOP HONOURED.SEAT IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS.REASONS FOR RETIRE-

RUGBY, Nov. 3rd.

The general satisfaction at the conferment by H.M. the King of a barony upon the Archbishop of Canterbury is reflected in to-day's press comments. The honour is obviously intended to ensure that, after the Archbishop's retirement this month, the country and the House of Lords will still retain his services as a distinguished statesman of long experience. The fact that this has been achieved by the conferment of a barony, which is the lowest rank carrying with it a seat in the second chamber, is generally attributed to the expressed desire of the Archbishop himself. He has no heir to inherit the title. Although he already has a title, being Knight Grand Cross of the Royal Victorian Order, Doctor Davidson has never used the prefix Sir or Mrs. Davidson that of Lady.

The Archbishop in a recent speech disposed emphatically of the suggestion made in some quarters that he was resigning on account of recent events in Parliament. The true reason, he stated as follows, "I do not believe as a man who has almost reached eighty-one years of age that I am adequately and rightly fit and have the vigour required to carry on day and night the duties that belong to my office. I do not profess to be a completely worn-out man or to be either mentally or physically incapable of tackling any particular task, but I am no longer as fit as I was some years ago to carry out duties which are of such an onerous, persistent and exacting sort. It is for that reason alone that I have resigned my office into younger hands. I think I have done the right thing, for the leadership of the church and the nation's affairs should not be in the hands of men who are too old." A national tribute to Doctor Davidson is to be paid on his retirement, when the fund subscribed from every part of Britain and the Empire is to be handed over to him. He will deliver his farewell address in Canterbury Cathedral to-morrow night, which will be relayed by all the stations of the British Broadcasting Corporation. His successor will be Doctor Cosmo Gordon Lang whose Archbishopric of York is to be filled by Doctor Temple, the present Bishop of Manchester.

BRITISH RECORD ATTEMPT.

PLANE TRAVELS 345 M.P.H.

FINAL TRIALS.

RUGBY, Nov. 3rd.

Flight-Lieutenant Darcy Greig, who hopes to make an attack on the air speed record at Calshot, made final trial flight in his Supermarine N.250 this morning. He remained in the air for over twenty-two minutes, and during dives he reached a speed of 345 miles per hour. If the times as recorded over the course are found on examination to be satisfactory he will apply to the Air Ministry for permission to make an attempt on the record at the first opportunity.

WOMAN KIDNAPPER SENT TO GAOL.

The Chinese woman who was charged with kidnapping a Chinese boy, age 7, and taking him to Chinese territory was found guilty by Mr. W. Schofield on Saturday morning and sentenced to one year's hard labour. The accused's husband and two witnesses gave evidence on her behalf, but their statements proved to be contradictory.

Evidence was given for the Crown by a witness who deposed to have seen the accused board the train at Yau-mai with a little boy and alight at Tai-po. The witness said that he knew the defendant.

NOTES ON THE GAMES.

DIVISION I.
H.K.F.C. v. QUEEN'S REGT.

This game was played on the H.K.F.C. ground, the teams lining out as under:—

H.K.F.C.—Logan, Wallington and Holt; Massey, J. Stewart and Watson; Alexander, Reed, McBride, Scott and Transbuck.

Queen's—Dodd, Hooper and Sharp; Byrne, Hill and Morris; Hibbert, Richardson, Cantor, Barclay and Caldwell.

Referee: L. S. B. A. Atkinson.

The game opened with fast and even play and some wild shooting. Logan was busy in the Club goal, and the defence on both sides had to work hard. There was no score at the interval.

Resuming, the Queen's put on pressure and within a minute, Richardson beating Logan with a fast cross shot, Caldwell sent in a long shot and the ball entered the net being assisted by a defender. Barclay scored the Queen's third goal by a pass by Caldwell.

The Club again got down and McBride scored from close range. Then Logan mistimed a high shot from Caldwell and the ball entered the net. Except for a couple of visits to the Queen's goal, play was confined to the Club half where the home defence were hard pressed. Another goal by Caldwell gave the Queen's the verdict by six goals to one.

The Club did well to hold the Queen's in the opening half. The game was practically won for the Queen's in the first minute of the second half when Richardson scored.

The team work of the Queen's was a treat to watch and their meeting with the China Athletic next week is awaited.

SOUTH CHINA v. K.O.S.B.

South China—Pau Ka Ping; Lee Ting Sang and Lau Kiu; Leung Yin Chan, Pang Wah Hing and Leung Wing Chin; Lai Ting Choy, Fung King Cheung, Leung Wing Tak, Lau Man and Ip Pak Wah.

K.O.S.B.—McDonnell; Harris and Martin; Everett, Davey and Skeggs; Campbell, Stock, Reeves, McDermott and Alexander.

This match was played at Caroline Hill the K.O.S.B. made two alterations in their team, Harris coming in at right back and Reeves a new arrival to the Colony at centre forward.

Reeves had an early try but his shot went over. Keeping on the aggressive Campbell received a long forward pass from Davey and crossing a lovely ball Reeves got possession and opened the scoring with a fast oblique shot. The game was very fast and led to end play continued South China making every endeavour to draw level but the visitors' defence for whom Harris was showing exceptionally good form was very stout and gave nothing away. Stock and McDermott were making it a point to see that Reeves had plenty of the ball and though he always had two or three Chinese round him, his weight carried him through on occasions only to see the ball going over the bar or a brilliant save by Pau Ka Ping.

The game was not all in favour of the Borderers but the South China forwards were weak in front of goal.

Half-time: South China 0, K.O.S.B. 1.

The resumption again showed some very fast football both ends being visited in turn, the respective defences, however, were tackling and kicking in a confident manner and very little trouble was given to the goalkeepers.

Fouls were frequent but the game throughout was fought in good spirit the referee not allowing any infringement to pass kept a good grip.

Play to the end was fairly even though the Borderers were always more dangerous in front of goal than the home team, the Army men running out winners of a game which did not show the best form of either team.

Result: South China 0, K.O.S.B. 1.

R.A. v. KOWLOON.

Played on the Railway ground, the teams lining out as under:—

R.A.—Fletcher; Oliver, and Nellis; Oliver, Fuller and Joyce; Woods, Eagles, Maddocks, Hill and Job.

Kowloon—Angus, Guest, and Baldwin; Hadley, Sims and McKelvie; Clemo, Pile, Spary, Miles and Cornwall.

Referee: Mr. Ip Kau Ko.

The game was evenly contested but a mistake by the defence towards the close gave the R.A. full points. Kowloon attack was weak, probably due to constant changes in the forward line. Spary opened the score for Kowloon giving Fletcher no chance with a fast shot.

A good movement by the R.A. right wing ended with Eagles beating Angus and making the score one all. Miles and Pile had good chances to put Kowloon ahead but half-time arrived with the score, one all.

Resuming, the play settled in midfield, but a breakaway by Clemo led to Kowloon again taking the lead, Fletcher driving into the net with Fletcher helpless. The Gunners settled down and by good combination got in close to Angus where Maddocks was then two all.

A struggle for the winning goal ended in favour of the R.A. through a misunderstanding Baldwin turned the ball into his own goal.

The R.A.M.C. sent over a team to engage Kowloon in a friendly on the Railway ground, the result being a win for the home team by three clear goals.

Sutherland, Davis and Easterbrook scored the goals.

CLUB DE RECREIO v. ROYAL NAVY.

This game was played at King's Park, the teams lining out as under:—

Club de Recreo—Marques; P. Xaviour and Silva Netto; Assumpcao, Remedios and Sousa; B. Gosano, Rosa Pereira, A. Gosano, Ward and Brown.

Royal Navy—Spiers; Cope and Morton; Chawner, Evans and Moss; Van Tromp, Firth, Pomeroy, Mann and Stenlake.

Referee: Pipe Major Mackie.

The Recreo attacked from the kick off and Brown centred for Ward to beat Spiers from close range. After this reverse, the Navy played up strongly but Firth missed a chance to level.

Cope was in great form for the Navy at back and Spiers also did well.

Half-time: Recreo 1, Navy 0.

Resuming, the Recreo soon added to their score, Rosa Pereira scoring from a centre by B. Gosano. The Navy forwards then pressed and Firth and Mann scored in quick succession. The Navy were round the Recreo goal but failed to press home their advantage. Then a run and centre by the Recreo's right wing gave A. Gosano a fine opening and he banged the ball into the net giving the Recreo the lead. Another goal to the Recreo, scored by A. Gosano put the issue beyond doubt.

Before the final whistle sounded the Navy scored again, Pomeroy scoring from a pass by Evans.

A Gosano was in form for the home team, having the Navy defence guessing when in possession of the ball.

DIVISION II.

K.O.S.B. RES. v. UNIVERSITY.

Played on the Athletic ground and ended in a win for the K.O.S.B. by four goals to one.

But for the good play of Edwards in the University goals, the students would have gone down heavily against a strong military side. Playing with the wind, the K.O.S.B. took the lead early.

Crawley turning in a centre by Craig, Crawley and Hart brought the K.O.S.B. score to 3-0 before half-time.

Crossing over University played up strongly and Caldwell scored their only goal. After several corner kicks, the K.O.S.B. added to their score through Crawley, the result being, K.O.S.B. 4, University 1.

SMALL UNITS RES. v. ST. JOSEPH'S.

The Small Units gained their first league point against St. Joseph's on the College ground and on the run of the play should have secured full points. Before the interval, the Small Units took the lead through Williamson but a penalty against the Small Units levelled the score.

Time was called with the score, one all.

EASTERN v. SOUTH CHINA.

Played on the Navy ground and ended in a draw of one all. South China pressed strongly in the opening minutes and the defence sent into their own goal.

The Eastern took up the attack and a shot by Dallas found the net. Crossing over equal, the Eastern pressed but failed to add to their half-time score.

CLUB DE RECREIO RES. v. QUEEN'S RES.

Played at King's Park and ended in a win for the Queen's by three clear goals. Harris opened the score for the Queen's and but for the home goalie the score would have much bigger.

Bunn converted a penalty early in the second half.

The Queen's kept up a heavy bombardment of the Recreo goal, but only did better concede a goal, Evans scoring from close range.

R.A. RES. v. R.A.F.

Played at Stockpoo, the Gunners going down heavily by seven goals to nil. Gallacher and Steele scored for the Airman before the interval.

The Airman had much their own way in the second half and put on five goals through Gallacher (2), Greenalade, Steele and Carey.

KOWLOON RES. v. R.A.M.C.

The R.A.M.C. sent over a team to engage Kowloon in a friendly on the Railway ground, the result being a win for the home team by three clear goals.

Sutherland, Davis and Easterbrook scored the goals.

HOME FOOTBALL RESULTS.

RANGERS FORGING AHEAD.

All the matches arranged in the Home football programme were played off on Saturday. A feature of the play was the upset of form of visiting teams in the Second Division who were obliged to give away the points in nine matches and just managed to share the points in two games. Northern section visitors did a little better, playing four drawn matches and losing the rest.

Blackburn's reign at the head of affairs in the First Division ended with their defeat at the hands of Sheffield United. Derby County and Leeds United now gain precedence. Everton and Huddersfield both lost again, the latter falling to the lowly Newcastle without seeing much of the net. Previous week's successes of Sheffield Wednesday and Manchester United were not maintained and they each lost a point. Arsenal again drew, this time with Cardiff.

Notts County and Hull City who are at the top of the Second Division both gained comfortable victories at home. Chelsea were surprised by the Wolves in a division of the spoils. Bradford, who gained a smashing victory over Preston North End the previous week, were ousted by Middlesbrough. Preston on the other hand had things their own way with Grimsby. Southampton gained the best aggregate of the day with a 2-2 win over Blackpool, and they go a step higher.

In the Southern section Luton, Plymouth and Queen's Park all won their matches and retain the same order as the previous week. There was only one drawn game here, the match between Fulham and Exeter proving a goalless one. Swindon stood up bravely to Northampton and lost by the only goal of the match. Crystal Palace gave away many goals again in their meeting with Coventry.

An interesting match in the Northern section was the meeting of the leaders and their rivals, Wrexham and Lincoln. The result was a flustering one—a draw with a goal going each way. Three other visiting teams, New Brighton, Doncaster, and South Shields, had to divide the points. Lincoln drop from second to fourth place, Bradford City and Carlisle moving up on comfortable victories at home. Stockport gained a handsome win over Rochdale. Southport had the tables turned this week by Tranmere, ever and beat the Hibernians by Tranmere.

In the Scottish League the Rangers are going as strong as ever and beat the Hibernians by an odd goal. With an unbeaten record in eleven games (they dropped one point in a draw) last season's champions are gradually leaving their competitors behind. Their close rivals Motherwell were beaten this time by Kilmarnock, while Aberdeen and Ayr United played a draw in which six goals were scored.

Full results with summaries of scores and League tables are appended.

WELTERWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP OF THE COLONY.

MORRIS KNOCKS OUT FRASER IN BIG FIGHT.

SHONS DISAPPOINTS HIS SUPPORTERS.

HARRY MAJOR AGAIN TO THE FRONT.

(By BANTAM.)

The first boxing tournament of the season held under the auspices of the Hong Kong Boxing Association on Saturday night at the Theatre Royal was a very real success. There was plenty of clean hard fighting, and some very good exhibitions of clever boxing.

The only knock-out was administered by Sig. Morris to Marine Fraser in the tenth round of the big fight of the evening. The fight was to go fifteen rounds, but as I had predicted, Fraser was no match for Morris. He is now the double champion—Middleweight and Welterweight—of the Colony.

Harry Major's return to the ring was a success. He beat Vahey and his form appeared to be better than ever.

Shons, who is a very plucky fighter, sadly disappointed his supporters. He lost to Castle and for that he had no one but himself to blame. Castle cannot be said to be a better man than Shons, but the latter was over-confident. He did very little fighting and only towards the end, when he realised that he was hopelessly in arrears and tried to catch up on points, but it was too late.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP FIGHT.

MORRIS KNOCKS OUT FRASER.

In the fight for the welter-weight championship of the Colony, Marine Fraser of H.M.S. Tamer, scaling at 145 lbs., met Signalmann Morris of H.M.S. Magnolia, also of the same weight in the big fight of the evening.

This bout was scheduled for 15 rounds, but Morris disposed of his opponent in the tenth round. Fraser at no stage of the fight looked like winning and was outclassed from start to finish.

Then was not much fighting in the first round and in the second. Fraser was forcing the fight and had Morris against the ropes and scoring with two heavy upward swings. The third round ended with Fraser slightly in the lead.

In the third round, Fraser was again on the aggressive, but Morris put up a splendid defence and returned to his seat with the round in his favour.

Breaking out in the next round Morris got home a stinging right jab and several body punches. Fraser made a plucky effort in the fifth round and attacked Morris from all angles getting home two punches to the jaw with his right. Morris countered with a sledge hammer body blow. The marine had the best of some in fighting in the sixth round but towards the end Morris was scoring with blows that found his opponent's face.

From the seventh round to the end Fraser had a very rough passage, the Signalmann obviously doing his best to finish off the fight. The Marine fought pluckily and good home twice on Morris's ear in the seventh, but immediately afterwards Morris sent him down for a count of three. Fraser, after a spurt at the beginning, went down again in the ninth round and managed to keep Morris off until the going sounded. The inevitable end came with a heavy downward punch on Fraser's neck, which sent him to the boards for a full count.

In disposing of Fraser, Morris won the welter-weight championship of the Colony. He is now a double champion, for he won the middle-weight championship last year. Mr. R. M. Dyer presented the belt to the winner amid much applause.

The Curtain Raiser.

Harry Major, of Hong Kong, scaling 145 lbs., and A. B. Vahey of H.M.S. Scaph, 144 lbs., opened the programme. Both men gave a splendid account of themselves, fighting hard and with full determination to win.

It was indeed a pleasure to see Harry Major back in the ring. He is a sporting pugilist and deserved the victory he gained over Vahey. The latter fought well but he lacked science.

Castle v. Shons.

Sig. Shons, 135 lbs., of H.M.S. Scaph disappointed his supporters by losing to A. B. Castle of H.M.S. Cumberland, 133 lbs., in a ten round feather-weight contest. Shons was obviously over confident.

In the opening round Castle scored heavily with both hands, to the face and body. In the second round Shons was still taking things easily. The third round saw Castle again doing all the attacking with Shons a passive respondent.

The same state of affairs was repeated in the fourth round, but the fifth was a thrilling one, both lads fighting hard. There were several rapid exchanges, in which Castle had the best of it. In the eighth round Castle sent Shon to the floor and administered more punishment when the latter got up. They fought themselves to a standstill in the last round and the verdict was in favour of Castle.

Moore v. Saunders.

Another Ten-Round Contest in the Welterweight Class was between A. B. Moore of H.M.S. Cumberland, 145 lbs., and A. B. Saunders, of H.M.S. Scaph, 144 lbs.

Saunders won the first round easily and although Moore had the advantage in weight and reach he could not keep his aggressive opponent at bay.

The second round was quiet but in the third, Saunders renewed his attack and scored heavily though toward the end, Moore retaliated with three successive straight jabs. The following two rounds saw both fighters giving a pretty exhibition of ring-craft. Saunders again out-boxed Moore in the seventh, but Moore came back with his second wind in the eighth round and did his share of the attacking. There was some some nice fighting seen in the ninth round, but Saunders had everything his own way in the last round and was given the verdict at the conclusion of the fight.

Two Novices Fight.

The last bout of the evening was not very serious from a boxing point of view. The two protagonists knew nothing of the science of ring-craft. They were Piper Smith of the R.O.S.E., 154 lbs., and A. B. Tremming of H.M.S. Hermes, 145 lbs. They fought six rounds and went at each other hammer and tongs. It was just a good hard scrap by two plucky beginners and the umpire decided it was a draw.

MACAO RACES.

MA KAU SIAC TURNS THE TABLES ON MISTY EVE.

(By EARLY BIRD.)

Brilliant weather favoured the Macao Race Club's Macao Fair Gymkhana which was held at Macao yesterday afternoon in the presence of a very large crowd including many visitors from Hong Kong and Canton.

The s.s. Lungshan was specially put on the run and for the convenience of those who wished to see the opening of the fair, left at 11 a.m. on Saturday morning. She also left Hong Kong at 9.30 a.m. yesterday returning at 5.45.

Hotel accommodation was taxed to the utmost and many visitors found difficulty in obtaining suitable quarters for the night. However, sportsmen are sports all the world over and quite a number of good fellows gave up the rooms which their good judgment had told them to book well ahead, and handed them over to the married folks who fully appreciated the kindness shown them. Visitors should realize that since the Macao Race Club took a hand in supplying the chief sporting fixture of Macao things have livened considerably. In future everybody who intends to stay over the Saturday night before a race meeting should make arrangements early.

H.E. The Governor of Macao was present at the meeting and thanks to the initiative of our hard working President was able to obtain a capital view of the races from a point of vantage on the left of the Judges' box.

Very appropriately His Excellency's pony Velos beautifully handled by Mr. G. U. da Roza romped home a winner and paid a very good dividend to his supporters and incidentally gave Senora Barbosa the pleasure of leading him in.

The improvements I mentioned in my notes on Saturday were a boon to those concerned and when other alterations have been completed we shall soon be able to say that the Macao Race Course is one of the best little courses in the Far East.

A VETERINARY SURGEON NEEDED.

It is a regrettable fact that ninety per cent. of the ponies trained in Macao appear to be tight skinned and have a more or less washed out appearance. Due no doubt to the want of veterinary attention. I am sure this could be easily rectified if arrangements were made for a European veterinary surgeon to pay an occasional visit to the stables. No one likes to see these unfortunate tucked-up little beasts endeavouring to do their best to keep up with a field when their proper place should be in the stable receiving the care and attention they deserve.

The most successful jockey at the meeting was Mr. T. L. Wong who piloted two winners and two thirds. Mr. G. U. da Roza who accounted for two winners and one third was a close second.

Twenty different owners shared in the twenty-four different stakes which is a very fair average considering there were only thirty-seven owners at the meeting.

THE RACING.

The November Novices.

Quite a larger number of interested backers lined the rails of the saddling enclosure before the start of the first race in an endeavour to ascertain the condition of their fancied candidates. As You Like It was the pick of the bunch as far as appearance goes.

Boukka also showed to great advantage as he was being led to the post. Movannagher did not impress as he was a little on the lean side. Mr. Fiddes-Wilson after administering a few preliminary remarks about the art of obtaining a good start, succeeded in getting the field off to a perfect start. As You Like It momentarily took command of the field as the commencement but was quickly displaced by Boukka with Movannagher and Zebra lying handy and Waichow trailing off the field. Passing the winning post the first time round Boukka was striding out to beat the band with the rest of the field running together all excepting Waichow who was struggling along entirely out of the race. At the half mile post Major Wolfe-Murray began to make a forward movement which soon landed him on good terms with the leader. Entering the straight Boukka was seen to run wide and As You Like It admirably handled by Major Wolfe-Murray finally got his head in front and came on to win nicely a length and a half to the good of Boukka with Zebra hard ridden many lengths away third. The winner and second pony were equal favourites.

The Monte Stakes.

A very creditable display by one of our novice riders landed Ching Hoi a winner to pay $194 which was the best dividend of the meeting. Seven runners faced the starter and at the fall of the Black Pearl started off at a great pace. Passing the winning post first time round the field were all going well with Silver Mine endeavouring to get on terms with the leader. Immediately Silver Mine headed the field his rider began to wander all over the track to the evidence discomfort of the riders in rear, who were vociferously calling upon him to ride straight. However, as Perpetual Motion moved up the danger was over as the field sped past.

The five furlong post saw Mr. Clark jollying his mount along without any response. Beautifully bunched at the bend Ching Hoi came through entering the straight closely followed by Waichow. Charles on the latter tried to put it over the wire at the distance post, but there was nothing doing for Mr. MacCartney just stayed for and passed the winning post, thereby winning his first race a neck to the good of Waichow, who beat Perpetual Motion by three lengths.

The Tap Siac Handicap.

Ma Kau Siac got his revenge when he upset the chances of Misty Eve, who had licked him so easily at the last meeting. The Eve candidate started a hot favourite with Mr. N. Hashim's latest purchase My Lady next in demand. Ma Kau Siac, who was not fancied to any great extent, received a good break at the fall of the flag and sailed along merrily with U. Un II. in close attendance and My Lady and Misty Eve handily placed in rear. My Lady fell away at the five furlong post but being rested a second or two she was brought on again by Mr. Clark in masterly fashion at the bend running on the outside of the field she passed all but the leader who was receiving a certain amount of attention from Roza. Ma Kau Siac, however, just moved on and won by a neck with the hot favourite Misty Eve a length and a half to the bad.

The Tap Siac Handicap "B" Class.

Gala Eve, the next Eve candidate, to face the starter, atoned for his stable mate's disgrace by winning the "B" as he liked it. It was treat to see our old friend Dr. Reidy in the saddle again after his enforced absence. He was up on Caviare and, although he received his customary support, he was not lucky enough to score. Branco made the pace from flag fall to the half mile post where he was overhauled by the rest of the field with Gala Eve in the van. Glory, Sunning and Caviare were running strongly till entering the straight, when Gala Eve was pushed to the front and was never headed, winning by three lengths with two lengths between Glory and Sunning.

The Tap Siac Handicap "C" Class.

Duke of Niebling was made the good thing in the field of seven but was beaten by Velos, H.E. The Governor of Macao's nomination. The race was a thoroughly poor one apart from the display of the three placed ponies. Velos won easily by four lengths with three more lengths between Duke of Niebling and Grey Eyes who finished second and third.

The Tap Siac Handicap "D" Class.

I trust my readers benefited by my remarks as to what would happen if Mr. Wong rode Ullswater. As I contended he won, and won in effortless fashion. The Haugh appeared to have the race won on entering the straight but Wong with good judgment steadily overhauled the leader and won handsomely by two and a half lengths with The Haugh holding the favourite Sung River down three lengths in rear.

Macao Fair Stakes.

Out of the 14 entrants only four faced the starter and staged a contest that must have aged many a backer, as it proved a heavily backed favourite's undoing. A rank outsider romped home to pay the handsome dividend of $33 for a win. The favourite disgraced himself entirely as the winner's time was ordinary "B" Class ponies time, and yet Chamal was beaten by four lengths. Blue World showed nicely to be beaten by only two lengths by Chamal.

The Consolation Plate.

The compilation committee deserve great praise for their handicapping venture in the last race of the day. Glory, who received a five pound penalty, was well supported, as was Ace of Spades who will not be forgotten by backers for some time as he again failed to score, although well fancied. U. Un II. made a bad showing considering he was up against inferior class ponies. At the start U. Un II. set a fast pace, closely attended by Glory with Caviare losing at his circuit ten lengths on account of his circus trick of standing up at the start. Ace of Spades did not look like a winner at any time during the race. Glory who was ridden a hard and well thought out race just managed to get his neck in front sufficiently, long enough to catch the judge's eye and U. Un II. coming badly under the whip, got home from Caviare by the small margin of two lengths.

LOCAL TENNIS.

GERMAN CLUB v. CRAIGEN-GOWER.

A very interesting tennis match took place on the ground of the German Tennis Club at King's Park yesterday afternoon when they received a team from the Craigen Gower C.C. in their return match.

The home team lost again, but by a very narrow margin, and the spectators were treated to a capital exhibition following which lavish hospitality was shown to the visitors.

The opening match between the two Clubs has kindled much interest, and it is understood that the German Tennis Club will play another well-known Kowloon Club next time.

EASTERN BANKS ROWING CLUB.

CHARTERED v. HONG KONG.

The friendly rivalry which exists between the two great Eastern Banks, has extended to the river, and the China Express and Telegraph reports another boat race between the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation and the Chartered Bank of India, which took place on September 28th.

It may be remembered that a similar race took place last year. Although the weather had been very wet during the day, rain had ceased when the time arrived for the race, but a cold wind swept the water and made the use of warm wraps compulsory for the spectators. There was a good attendance from the staffs of the London offices as well as some representatives from the East, and the occasion was graced by the presence of Sir Newton and Lady Stubb, Miss Stubb, Mr. J. S. Bruce and Mr. G. Miller.

The race, which took place from near Harrods' Buildings to a point short of Putney Bridge, was just over a mile, and was followed by the company in three launches. The Hong Kong Bank won the race and took the Surrey station, but there was little advantage in the position, however, as the tide was at half-ebb with only light wind. Both crews started well, but the Chartered Bank were able to gain about one length lead in the first hundred yards. The boats then remained in much the same position for about 1 mile, with the Chartered Bank drawing slightly ahead. The Hong Kong Bank then began to go up and slightly reduced the Chartered Bank's lead, but the latter drew away at the mile post, and from this point won comfortably by about five lengths, in 8 mins. 7 secs.

The crews and some of their supporters dined together after the race at the Duke's Head, Putney. Boats were kindly lent to the crews by the Midland Bank Rowing Club, the Westminster Bank Rowing Club, and the National Provincial Bank Rowing Club. It is hoped that these races may lead to the revival of the Eastern Banks' Rowing Club, which has been dormant since 1910. The crews were as follows:—

BLACK CAT'S TAIL AS A CHARM.

"WITCHCRAFT" IN CORNWALL.

Many curious beliefs and customs among civilised and other races were described by speakers at the jubilee congress of the Folk Lore Society at Devonshire House, London, W.

Mr. R. E. Enthoven, lecturing on tree worship in India, said the function of two species of trees was to act as brides in the case of bachelors who decided to marry a widow. In tribes which did not allow marriage to a widow, a youth had first to be married to one of these trees.

After the ceremony the tree was cut down and destroyed, leaving the youth free.

Discussing some Cornish superstitions, Miss B. C. Spooner said that "charming" was still practised seriously by professional charmers. With some charms it was magic and witchcraft; with others it was the modern counterpart of faith healing.

"Stroke the eye from the nose out with the tail of a black cat, saying with a stroke to each line, 'I take the queff that's under the ec, Oh quallyway, Oh quallyway.'"

Miss Mona Douglas said there was a belief in Manx folklore that the cats of the Isle of Man had a king of their own. "Cats are believed to be on intimate terms with the fairies and with all the inhabitants of the invisible world," she said.

She understood that there was an old law to the effect that any Manxman might kill a Scotsman if he went to Scotland and brought back two goats to keep away the Scotsman's ghost.

Miss W. Blackman described the methods employed by the women doctors and fortune tellers of the "Harley Street of Cairo," whose knowledge was handed down from mother to daughter for generations.

Among the cures was one for a headache obtained by tying a stone from the Holy Land upon the head and keeping it there for three days and nights. Other stones were used for the curing of squints and for protection from infectious diseases and evil spirits.

SUN-RAYS AND HISTORY.

MOSCOW PROFESSOR'S SPECULATIONS.

MAXIMUM ACTIVITY CAUSES REVOLUTION?

Officially present-day Russia recognizes no interpretation of human activities that does not coincide with the economic theories of Karl Marx. However, a Russian scientific investigator, Professor Chizhevsky, has been pursuing a line of thought that tends to explain human conduct in terms of natural rather than economic causes. The sunspot, in Chizhevsky's scheme of things, replaces the theory of surplus value, as an outstanding factor in historical development, and such phenomena as wars, revolutions, and even plagues and pestilences are attributed by the Russian professor to the periodic heightened effectiveness of the sun's rays.

Chizhevsky, who has expounded his viewpoint in an abstruse tome entitled "Physical Processes of the Historic Process," attempts to explain history, astronomy, physics, biology, and other sciences in behalf of his theory that human passions are wildest and most uncontrolled when the sun's rays are hottest. After studying the history of eighty States and peoples over a period of 2,400 years, he arrived at the statistical conclusion that 60 per cent. of the events and periods of greatest significance fall within the recurrent three-year periods of maximum sun-ray activity, while only 3 per cent. take place within the equally recurrent periods of minimum activity. The remaining 35 per cent. fall within the two and three year periods of increasing and declining activity.

Some Illustrations.

Such statistical computations are obviously open to the charge of arbitrary selection, but Professor Chizhevsky supports his thesis with various concrete illustrations. He declares that the following dates of crusades: 1096, 1147, 1157, 1204, 1212, 1224, and 1454 coincide with the strongest maximum activity of sun-ray activity. St. Bartholomew's Day in 1572 also corresponds with a period of maximum activity of the sun-rays, and Professor Chizhevsky offers as further astronomical-historical coincidences the following tables of comparative dates:

Dates of maximum sun-ray activity.	Important events.
1649.....	British Revolution (1649).
1789.....	French Revolution (1789).
1870.....	Paris Commune (1871).
1903.....	1st Russian Revolution (1905).
1917.....	2nd Russian Revolution (1917).

As years of minimum sun-ray activity during the last century Chizhevsky lists 1810, 1823, 1833, 1843, 1856, 1867, 1878, and 1889, and deems any historian to point out an event of striking importance which developed within these lean and languid years. His investigations also led him to the conclusion that epidemics of cholera in Russia during the nineteenth century closely conformed to the heightened curve of sun-ray activity.

The gist of Chizhevsky's theory is that the electrical energy generated by the sun operates with powerful effect on the physical and nervous systems of human beings, thereby increasing the likelihood of fatal results in physical maladies and also stimulating such explosions of mass excitement as war and revolution. Besides making out a number of elaborate historical-astronomical comparative tables, he has attempted to strengthen his case by undertaking laboratory experiments which tend to prove that dogs are very sensitive to the introduction of electricity into the atmosphere.

GREAT SURGEON'S ROMANCE.

WEDDING TO A NURSE AT HAMPTON COURT.

The romance of the most brilliant surgeon on the staff of a leading London hospital and a hospital nurse, which began when the nurse was in her first years of training, will culminate today at the Chapel Royal, Hampton Court Palace, when Dr. Philip Mitchiner marries Miss Philpott, says a copy to hand of a Home paper of October 6th.

Dr. Mitchiner, who holds one of the most remarkable records in the medical "Who's Who," is operating surgeon at St. Thomas' Hospital. He has been surgeon to the Serbian royal family, and was formerly surgeon to the Serbian Government.

The letters F.Z.S. (Fellow of the Zoological Society) after the name of Dr. Mitchiner, who is a tall, dark man with a powerful face, indicate one of his affections. He is tremendously fond of animals. He has occasionally utilized his great talents to operate on injured beasts, assisting a Zoo official who is a personal friend. One of these operations was successfully performed on a crocodile's jaw.

Miss Philpott, after she left St. Thomas' Hospital, went to University College Hospital, where she worked for some time. Now she has decided to abandon her profession.

THE "PRESIDENT ADAMS."

SIR AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN AS PASSENGER.

When sailing from Balboa, Panama Canal zone on September 21st, the Dollar Round-the-World liner President Adams, Captain W. C. Morris (which has been in Hong Kong during the week-end) carried as passengers Sir Austen Chamberlain, Lady Chamberlain, and their two children.

Sir Austen Chamberlain travelled from England to Balboa via Bermuda on the Royal Mail steamer Oreum. The trip was passed very quietly.

Sir Austen Chamberlain spending his time reading, and conversing with Captain Morris and passengers.

Lady Chamberlain and the other members of their party took an active interest in deck sports and social activities aboard the liner.

Sir Austen Chamberlain appeared much rested from his sea trip.

Upon arrival at Los Angeles, the President Adams was escorted by four United States destroyers into the harbour. While at Los Angeles, Sir Austen Chamberlain was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, who accompanied the party back to the ship just before sailing.

Admiral William Pratt, Commander in Chief of the United States Pacific Fleet, and staff called on Sir Austen and Lady Chamberlain aboard the President Adams just before sailing.

On sailing from Los Angeles, the liner pressed the U.S.S. California, a salute of nineteen guns was fired and an escort of four destroyers and nine airplanes accompanied the ship for two hours.

Upon arrival at San Francisco, Sir Austen and Lady Chamberlain were the guests of Mr. Templeton Crocker, the leading financier of San Francisco, spending two weeks at Mr. Crocker's home in Burlingame before continuing on their trip to England by way of Canada.

A Junk In Distress.

An interesting incident in the voyage of the President Adams was the sighting of a large Chinese junk approximately 120 miles from the Fairway Buoy at the mouth of the river. Attention was first attracted to the junk when it was noticed that the members of the crew were desperately waving signal flags and buckets indicating clearly their distress and need for fresh water.

Captain Morris maneuvered the liner so as to approach the junk which came alongside. The crew consisted of eight members who reported they had been out of water for four days. Approximately a ton and a half of fresh water was delivered to the junk, the water being transferred by means of buckets. In reply to Captain Morris' offer to supply them with food, the master of the junk pointed to a supply of fish lying on the deck and to his fishing nets, indicating that they were well taken care of in that respect.

After a delay of one-half hour, the President Adams resumed her journey to this port.

LIFE IN CANAL BOATS.

GROWTH OF THE OIL-DRIVEN VESSEL.

The suitability of canal boats as habitations and the health of the families, particularly the children, who live in them are among the subjects dealt with by Mr. Owen J. Llewellyn, Inspector under the Canal Boats Act, in his annual report for last year which he has presented to the Minister of Health in London.

It is stated that there has been a general adoption of engines in place of horses for the propulsion of canal boats. "When oil-driven canal boats first made their appearance on narrow canals (Mr. Llewellyn writes) it was hastily concluded that the new order of things would have the effect of getting rid of women and children off many of the craft. In this I was wrong, for apparently the wives and families of the boatmen seem to find as little difficulty in adapting themselves to the new methods as do women elsewhere on cars, and I cannot find that any accidents have arisen thereby. Probably the more easily accessible and obedient motor-engine is less dangerous than the distant horse, the care of which naturally necessitated much more getting on and off the boats when in motion."

While he was informed that the modern canal boatman was anxious that his children should receive a better education than had been possible hitherto, the Inspector found that the difficulties of achieving this purpose in the case of children whose residence is "a possibly ever-changing boat" are still great. Dealing with the health of the occupants of the boats, he says: "At Paddington the state of the boats and their inhabitants has not improved, and my instant complaints seem to have no effect whatever either on the boat-owners who allow these conditions to exist, or the local authorities whose refusal is carried out by these boats. A conference that I arranged was not regarded seriously by most of those who attended it, and were it not for two stubborn facts—(1) that the health of the children on these boats does not seem to suffer in the least, and (2) that it might still be difficult for the families to find proper accommodation on land, I should have no hesitation in recommending the immediate removal of the children from the boats."

In dealing with the age of the canal boats, the Inspector says that when the Canal Boats Act was passed in 1877 a very large number of these craft were then registered. The names of many of the boats continue to appear, so that, to get at their length of years it was necessary to add half a century to whatever their age might have been at the time of their original registration. Many wharves on the Norfolk Broads were said to be well into their second century, and he could well believe it.

The report points out that there is hardly a waterway in the North Midlands where several petrol depots do not exist, that the depots are not within the registered area under the Canal Boats Act, and the need for precautionary measures is indicated.
